STINNES TO GRAB RUSSIAN TRADE

Hugo First Adds Special Ships to Huge Fleet

BUYS MANY OCEAN LINERS

Family Fortune Started by River Transportation

By MILTON BRONNER

BERLIN—(Special)—One day the captain of a Swedish passenger vessel plying between Sweden and Germany said to a German passenger:

"Who is that poor seafaring fellow? He looks as if he might die before he landed in Sweden."

"He may be very ill," said the passenger, "but he won't die of it. What's more he will probably buy a hunk of Sweden as soon as he lands and has had a re-creating cup of black coffee. And, by the way, he is a ship owner himself."

"He may be a ship owner," said the captain, "but he looks like a landman and he is certainly a bad seaman."

The hero of this little anecdote is Germany's greatest business man—Hugo Stinnes. The Swede was already accurate. Stinnes is a landman and a bad sailor, but the trust for ships is in his blood and he is rapidly coming to the fore as a new force in Germany's once more expanding and reviving mercantile marine.

OWNS RIVER CRAFT

Long ago he was one of the chief owners of German river craft. In fact, the Stinnes family has been associated with the business for about two centuries. And, however widespread have become the interests of Hugo Stinnes, he has never forgotten the family fortunes were started by transporting things on German rivers.

If you sit on a fine May morning on the terrace of a Dresden hotel and glance at the Elbe river below, your attention will soon be attracted to a big sturdy tug pulling up stream a long line of barges, each heavily laden with coal. Somewhere you will see the magic name "Stinnes."

Or go over to Coblentz where a few of our doughboys are still keeping watch on the Rhine and the Moselle rivers and once more you will see the Stinnes name. This, in spite of the fact that under the peace treaty a large number of German river craft were surrendered to France and Belgium.

ITS OCEAN SHIPPING

Important and money-making as these river lines are to Stinnes, he has long ago begun to turn his attention to the greatest possibilities of ocean traffic. During the first half of the war he bought a large block of stock in the German East African and the Woermann lines. Later he obtained a big interest in the Deutsche Werft, a concern of Hamburg which builds ships. Another which fell into his all-embracing net was the Hamburg Verkehrs Corporation, which is not only interested in shipping but owns hotels in Hamburg, Berlin and Frankfurt on the Main. Furthermore it is interested in German seaside resorts like Travemünde and has vessels that carry excursionists there. At Flensburg Stinnes has a company whose small ships ply the Baltic.

Within the past two years he formed the Hugo Stinnes lines and these new concerns were the cause of one of the deepest humiliations of his business career. Stinnes owned a considerable block of stock in the once great Hamburg-American Steamship Company and was made a director. The concern, beginning to recuperate from the paralysis caused by the war and the loss of its biggest and best ships, was preparing to resume active steamship service between Hamburg and South America. The latter has always been a favorite field for German expansion and German business firms have many friends there.

STINNES IS HUMILIATED

Imagine the surprise of the managing directors, therefore, when one fine morning as they sipped their coffee and perused the Hamburg papers, their eyes were claimed by a glaring advertisement in which the Hugo Stinnes lines announced the inauguration of a regular service between Hamburg and Buenos Aires. For a fellow director to steal a march on them like that wasn't considered "clubby." There was an immediate conclave and Stinnes, the billionaire in German marks, was fumed out on his ear. Not, of course, literally and physically. But his career as a director of the board of directors of the Hapag, as the great shipping company is known all over Germany, Stinnes' credit was two fold—he advertised and pushed his line and he immediately took more than his ever-ready cash and banked it in the North German Lloyd, the great Bremen rival of Hamburg.

It was in connection with his shipping interest that Stinnes got some of the publicity he so much shuns and hates.

There were built for him three or four 12,000-ton ships, Stinnes decided to name them "Ludendorff," "Hindenburg" and "Tirpitz." As representatives of Germany were then contending with the allies the latter sign that action of Stinnes was a good bit militaristic and unrepentant. Leaders among many of the Socialist party went after Stinnes with a vengeance.

The whole furore surprised him immensely. A total misreader of the situation.

TRAGEDY WITNESSED BY SON

Self-Defense is Claimed by the Prisoner

TULSA, Okla.—(Associated Press)

—Mrs. M. A. Jergsen, 35 years old, mother of two children, was held in the county jail here today for slaying her husband, Dr. M. A. Jergsen, prominent local physician.

Dr. Jergsen was shot to death in his home last night.

Dr. Jergsen applied for a divorce last Tuesday, Mrs. Jergsen told the police. She said she went to the Jergsen home late yesterday to obtain some clothing and that she and the doctor quarreled. "He started to strike me and I shot him," she said.

A 15-year-old son who said he was in the room at the time of the shooting, told the police:

"Papa started to strike mama and as he lifted his hand she shot."

Westrick, Krauss & Shreeves, of Napoleon, low bidders on brick, asphalt and macadam paving, were awarded a contract to construct Section L-1, L-2 and Beaverdam on the Dixie Highway, by the state highway department, it was announced from Columbus Friday.

Bids on the work were received by the highway department May 19. More than 20 firms competed for the contract. Frank A. Frobose, Lima, stood third low on macadam type.

The section let is about three miles long and will be paved with brick at the contract price of $97,437.49.

H. H. Pratt, Construction Co., Blanchard, was awarded a contract to build a little more than a mile of paving on the Findlay-Kent road in Hancock-co, for $42,758.28.

FAMILY POISONED

Fungus Mistaken for Mushrooms—Three Dead

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ontario—(Associated Press)—Three members of the family of Joseph Lawler, a farmer at Gordon Lake, Ont., nine miles north of Des Barres, are dead as a result of eating a quantity of what were believed to be mushrooms, but which were a poisonous species of fungus.

The lives of two other members of the family are in danger while the three-year-old boy who refused to eat the dish is the only one of the family not affected.

RESERVATIONS HALT ACCEPTANCE OF BEST BIDS FOR SEWER BONDS

Reservations in the most favorable bid for $563,000 Lima sewer bonds, opened by E. O. Sellers, city auditor, Friday may make it impossible for the city to accept it.

A bid offering a premium of $23,156.50 for the bonds was made by a syndicate consisting of Taylor-Ewart & Co., Chicago; the A. B. Leach Co., Chicago, and the Second Ward Securities Co., Milwaukee.

It was stipulated, however, that the bond issue would have to be submitted to the syndicate's attorneys for their opinion before the contract would be completed.

An unreserved bid of $20,474.90 premium was made by the Rosenstill Ellis Co., Cincinnati, and it may be accepted if it is decided that it will be for the best interests of the city.

It is pointed out by Auditor Sellers that the acceptance of the Rosenstill bid would mean that the city will receive its money two weeks earlier than if it is necessary to wait for an opinion by the Chicago firm's attorneys.

WORLD IS WARNED OF NEW WAR

Lloyd George Declares Conflict Still Threatens

LONDON—(United Press)—The world still is threatened with war, Lloyd George declared in a speech at the Hotel Cecil today.

The premier castigated the critics of Genoa.

Speaking at a luncheon tendered by his supporters in parliament, Lloyd George began with an attack upon those who "had made more difficult the work of the economic conference."

"When these critics demonstrated their joy and satisfaction at every prediction of failure and evinced gloom and wrath at every prediction of possible success, I could not help but conclude the wish was father to the thought," he exclaimed.

Lloyd George then took up Britain's position at Genoa. Having mobilized something like nine and a half million men for war, he said Great Britain was entitled to have something to say when peace was established.

"Neither Britain nor the world of humanity is yet out of danger," the premier said.

PERILS POINTED OUT

"There are perils near our coasts and inside the limits of our island," Lloyd George declared. "Therefore, we must continue in a spirit of co-operation, until the last of these perils has vanished."

This was checked as an indication the premier had determined to hold together his coalition government.

DURAND IN RACE

Seeks Gubernatorial Nomination on Wet Platform

COLUMBUS—(Associated Press)—C. Homer Durand, Coshocton attorney, will attempt to win the Republican gubernatorial nomination on a platform favoring light wines and beer. He has filed formal declaration of his candidacy with the secretary of state.

In a statement Mr. Durand said, "I favor light wines and beer to drive out the illicit traffic in liquor."

Carmel A. Thompson of Cleveland and Harvey C. Smith, secretary of state, declared they are in the Republican gubernatorial race to stick to a finish.

Rupert Beetham, speaker of the house of representatives, another candidate, said he would withdraw from the race if Governor Davis decides to enter. Congressman C. L. Knight of Akron, a possible candidate, announced at Akron that he would make no decision until he reaches Washington Sunday. He has said he will enter the race if Governor Davis decides not to enter.

MISS M'CORMICK FINDS WAY OUT

Can't Marry Max Oser Without Guardian's Consent

HAS HER FATHER APPOINTED

Court Names Him on the Girl's Petition

CHICAGO.—(United Press)—

A "way out" was provided today for Mathilde McCormick from her engagement to marry Max Oser, Swiss horseman.

Appointment of Harold F. McCormick, millionaire president of the International Harvester Company, as guardian of the 17-year-old girl, will prevent her marrying Oser without McCormick's formal consent.

Best information obtainable among the McCormick circle of friends here was that Mathilde would prefer to utilize the "way out" and have her father withhold his consent.

OWN PETITION

When McCormick was divorced a year ago from the daughter of John D. Rockefeller, the court held that the children could choose which parent they desired to live with. Fowler and Muriel chose their father, but Mathilde preferred her mother, she was unable to make a legal choice because of being under age.

On her own petition, Paul Corkell, probate court judge, named Harold McCormick as her guardian.

Under Swiss laws, a girl under 18 who desires to marry, must first obtain the consent of her parents or guardians.

CHANGE OF HEART

In case Mathilde's love for Oser cooled, as had been reported many times recently and she did not wish to marry now, she could find refuge in the guardianship.

Many reasons have been advanced recently as to the cause of Mathilde's change of heart.

First the refusal of John D. Rockefeller, world's richest man and patriarch of the McCormick family, to give his consent, had undoubtedly been an important determining influence. Mathilde's petition for appointment of a guardian set forth that she possessed an estate of only $10,000, and if financial pressure was brought to induce her to break the engagement, it undoubtedly would have a great deal of weight.

Second is the failure of Mathilde's mother to sanction the engagement.

Third, Mathilde has been mixing freely in the society of America, meeting girls and boys here of her own age and position, and reports are that she found it more interesting than she had anticipated.

The fact that Mathilde has long deferred sailing to Europe to meet Oser since announcement of the engagement was made, have confirmed of many friends here the belief that marriage will never take place. The sailing was first arranged for the early part of April and has been set off every few days, until now Mathilde admits she doesn't know when she will leave.

3 CHILDREN DROWN

Bodies Found in Well by Georgia Parents

STATESBORO, Ga.—(Associated Press)—Three children, aged 2, 4 and 5, of Foster Allen, living near here, were drowned in a well at their home today. The father and mother were some distance from the house when they heard screams.

Rushing home they found their eight-year-old son clinging to the rope in the well into which he had descended in a futile attempt to save the other three children. He was brought safely to the top.

SPENCERVILLE LID IS SLOWLY GOING UPWARD; BAN IS PARTLY LIFTED

Spencerville's celebrated "blue law" Sundays are soon to be a memory, reports from the village state. Restrictions have been gradually eased in the past two weeks into something approaching normalcy. Mayor C. C. Laman is still on the job however, and denies that things are to be thrown wide open.

Here are some things the citizens can now do on the Sabbath.

Eat ice cream in public from 7 a. m. to 9 a. m., and from noon to the hour of evening church services. Buy sandwiches, meals and lunches during the same hours.

Run their lawnmowers with mufflers closed, anytime.

Go to the ball game or read the Sunday papers.

It is sinful, however, to sell cigars, cigarettes, or chewing tobacco.

To loaf on the streets or attend the movies.

MICHAEL CASE IS STRENGTHENED

Witnesses Testify to Gift of Wooley Property

Testimony calculated to show the state of mind and intentions of Joseph Wooley, when he induced Maude Michael to accept a position as housekeeper in his home was presented to the jury in common pleas court Friday, in Miss Michael's second suit to recover personal property of the deceased.

Mrs. J. S. Michael, mother of Maude, told of friendship existing between Wooley and Michael families dating back to the time when they all resided in Van Wert.

She related to the jury how Joseph Wooley, came to her home and talked with both she and Maude regarding her coming to care for himself and wife.

Mrs. Michael testified that Wooley promised her daughter his property. She also told the jury of statements said to have been made by the deceased in which he declared the auto belonged to Maude.

The dealer, from whom the car was purchased, told the jury that Wooley, said to him:

"I'm not buying this car for myself, I am getting it for Maude."

Blanche Redd, 124 S. Baxter-st, told of visiting the house at 819 W. Market-st, and hearing Wooley say: "I want Maude's friends to come here. I want them to feel that it is her home."

Miss Redd told the jury Miss Michael had charge of the household as if it was her own.

R. E. Davis, administrator and defendant in the case, was the first witness called when court resumed session Friday.

WARD LOSES IN FREEDOM FIGHT

Writ Dismissed, Peters Slayer Remanded to Jail

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y.—(Associated Press)—Supreme Court Justice Young this afternoon dismissed the writ of habeas corpus taken out for Walter S. Ward, millionaire banker and central figure in the shooting of Clarence Peters, ex-navy man.

Immediately after Justice Young handed down his decision, Allan R. Campbell, counsel for Ward, served notice of an appeal.

Meanwhile Ward, who was rearrested last night was taken back to jail.

Attorneys for Ward, who spent the night in jail here after his rearrest went before Justice Young today with a plea for habeas corpus writ again to release the wealthy young man. They failed last night after four hours of effort.

Ward, who had been out on $10,000 bail following his confession of killing Clarence Peters, was rearrested after District Attorney Weeks appeared before Supreme Court Justice A. H. F. Seegar with an affidavit declaring that new evidence had cast doubts on Ward's confession.

The bail bond of $10,000 was mentioned and Mr. Weeks' petition stated "this bail now appears to be insufficient."

The affidavit concluded by asking that Ward again be held without bail.

The efforts of Ward's attorneys to secure the habeas corpus writ was expected to make public the new evidence upon which the authorities based their latest action. District Attorney Weeks said he was prepared to push the case entirely into the open.

TRIAL NEARS END

Miners' Treason Case May Reach Jury This Week

CHARLESTOWN, W. Va.—A jury of 12 farmer folk loiled in swivel chairs in John Brown's court house today, listening to final legal arguments in Bill Blizzard's treason trial.

The evidence was closed. Only the legal points of counsel remained to be heard.

Attorneys maintain arguments will be concluded in time for the case to go to the jury before Sunday. Thirteen hours have been allotted for this purpose.

Fear is expressed by opposing factions that no matter which way the case turns, a verdict cannot be considered final.

Twelve Seriously Injured in Pennsylvania Catastrophe

NONE AT PLANT ESCAPES

Extent of Damage and Cause of Blast Unknown

EMPORIUM, Pa.—(Associated Press)—Nine men were killed and 12 seriously injured when three packing houses at the plant of the Pricella Powder Company, at Sinnamahoning, 18 miles from here, blew up shortly before noon today.

News of the explosion which reached here by telephone, was to the effect that none of the men in or around the packing houses escaped death or injury.

The extent of the damage could not be estimated at this time nor could the cause be determined, it was stated.

FIVE INJURED IN BLAST

LOS ANGELES—(Associated Press)—Five seamen were injured in an explosion aboard the submarine H-3 yesterday while the craft was on patrol duty off the Coronado Islands, forty miles from San Diego, it was announced when the vessel returned to her base here last night.

The names of the injured men were not made public by the naval officials here.

The explosion occurred in an engine compartment among the storage batteries of the submarine which is propelled by electric motors when submerged.

Lieutenant Theodore W. Waldschmidt, in command, immediately radioed for help. Captain W. F. Miller, commanding at the submarine base here, dispatched the sub-chaser 306 to the scene with instructions to stand by. Meanwhile the H-3 started to Los Angeles.

The five injured enlisted men were taken to the best hospital as soon as the H-3 arrived.

"They received burns in fighting a small fire which followed the explosion, but were not seriously injured," Captain Miller stated.

WAGE AWARDS TO BE MADE SOON

Labor Board to Decide on Railway Controversy

CHICAGO—(Associated Press)—Wage decisions by the United States railroad labor board affecting more than 400,000 men in the shop crafts and maintenance of way departments, will be made independently of the rate cuts by the interstate commerce commission, according to announcement by Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the board.

Wage scales for some classes of railway employees had been formulated by the board before the decision of the interstate commerce commission was known, he said.

All decisions by the board will be announced simultaneously. Mr. Hooper asserted He declined to indicate what changes in the scales would be made, beyond asserting that no reductions would be made in proportion to the rate cuts, as demanded by the roads.

The shop crafts and maintenance of way employees have asked for an increase in wages while the railroads asked for reductions approximating ten per cent.

ELKS PLAN CLAM BAKE AS EVENT FOR EARLY IN SEPTEMBER; INITIATION

Lima Elks will hold their annual clam bake and picnic early in September. The exact date has not been determined. An attempt is being made to bring a number of well known men to the city for the event.

Flag Day will be celebrated this year as usual. July 14 has been selected for the celebration and the program is now being arranged, Glen Rohm, secretary, says.

Meetings will be held only on the first Thursday of each month during June, July and August, it has been decided. This is because of the hot weather and the numbers who will be away on vacations.

Initiation of six new members was held at a banquet and social evening held at the Elks home Thursday night. Vaudeville acts furnished the entertainment.

Preparation for the Elks' Carnival, in the form of a "Fall Festival" will be started soon, it has been announced. It is planned to make it the best ever staged by the Lima Elks.

WET FORCES OPEN CAMPAIGN

Drive to Offset Drys' Convention is Launched

CANDIDATES SOUNDED OUT

Men in Race for Congress Must State Policy

(BY FRANK GETTY)

NEW YORK — (United Press) — A great wet drive, to offset the drys' convention at Milwaukee, is under way throughout the east today.

New York is the first objective of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment which is canvassing the state, but the entire country will be covered before the congressional elections next November.

The Anti-Saloon League at its Milwaukee meeting has declared that every candidate for congress must state his stand on the 18th amendment. The dry war cry is that each candidate must go on record to uphold the letter of the constitution. SAME PLANK.

The wet campaign, which will culminate in a national convention, has exactly the same plank. But candidates will be asked to uphold the theory of and non-interference with personal rights and liberties.

Both organizations are engaged in a six months drive to have the candidates stand on prohibition, the test of his fitness for congress.

The wets are led by Colonel Ransom Gillett. Under his leadership, the vote of New York state is being canvassed. The plan is to secure as many wet voters as possible in each community and then take the tally to the machine leaders of the congressional district and ask what they intend to do about it. REAL EXPERIMENT.

Colonel Gillett, in a statement to the United Press today said:

"The prohibition amendment is the first real experiment we have made in government. It has resulted in bringing about a contempt for all laws and a restlessness which manifests itself in a great many ways not at present apparent.

"It is unfortunate that liquor has been made the issue upon which our theory of free government has to be fought out again.

"The construction put upon the 18th amendment by the Volstead act results in this situation: We are continually spied upon and policed by the federal government, an authority we ought to love, but which we are rapidly being taught to hate and distrust."

U. S. DISTRUSTED, M'ADOO SAYS

Declares Shirt Tail Diplomacy Adopted by Envoys

KANSAS CITY — (Associated Press) — Declaring the foreign policy of the present Republican administration is non-co-operation and that its tariff bill now pending is calculated to destroy foreign trade and increase the cost of living, William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, vigorously attacked Republican achievements and aims in two short speeches here yesterday and a longer address today.

"Shirt tail diplomacy," the former cabinet member termed the present achievements of American foreign representatives.

"The administration," he said, "has abandoned shirt sleeve diplomacy for shirt tail diplomacy, because our envoys now sit meekly on their shirt tails and take no manly part, instead of representing America with the vigor and directness which distinguished our diplomacy in more honorable days. No wonder we have gained the contempt and distrust of all the world.

"We now have the spectacle of our ambassadors and representatives slinking about the courts of Europe, using the back stairs of international assemblies, sitting in the galleries of world conferences, looking on, spying about, observing, but taking no responsibility.

The tariff, McAdoo said, would destroy foreign trade and injure the country and the world economically. The Republican doctrine is to give to those who have and take everything possible from those who have not, he said.

The four-power Pacific treaty was declared by the speaker to be "a feeble step in the direction of world peace."

GEORGE DUPUIS SEEKS RESTRAINING ORDER IN STORE ROOM RENT TANGLE

George Dupuis, manager of the Royal and Rialto theaters, obtained a temporary order in common pleas court Friday, restraining Henry Frueh, Sulphur Springs road, president of the Lima Brewing company, from collecting on G. H. Brockway, paper hanger, from paying rent on property on public square under lease to him.

Dupuis alleges he rented the property from the Brewery and made considerable improvement thereon. By agreement he sublet to Brockway.

Reduction of the capital and surplus of the brewery from $200,000 to $50,000, caused the property to be allotted to Frueh.

Brockway, it is alleged, has been paying rent to Frueh.

Dupuis has also instituted separate action to collect $325 rent, alleged to be due him from Brockway.

BORAH EXPLAINS TWO ELECTIONS

People Dissatisfied With Conditions of Today, He Says.

NOT ALL PROGRESSIVISM

West and Middle West Expected to Follow Suit.

BY HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON — (Special) — Not progressivism, but dissatisfaction with things as they are.

That, says Senator William E. Borah, is chiefly responsible for the defeat of Old Guard candidates in Pennsylvania and Indiana and the nomination of former Bull Moose adherents—Gifford Pinchot and Albert J. Beveridge—as G. O. P. standard bearers in state and senatorial campaigns.

"So far as I know," Borah says, "neither Pinchot nor Beveridge ran on any definitely formulated platform of progressive principles. I doubt whether voters supported them thru any conscious approval of progressivism."

"If the nomination of Pinchot is taken as indicating a revival of progressive thought, how are we to account for the nomination at the same time of Pepper, the ultra-conservative, for the Senate?"

NEVER PROGRESSIVE

"Pennsylvania, never heretofore progressive politically, is hardly the state in which to look for a re-awakening of progressivism. The answer must lie in something else."

Borah's opinion is not far different from that of Governor William C. Sprout of Pennsylvania, who says:

"Pinchot was able to corral all the dissatisfied elements in the state, out of sorts with the administrations at Washington and Harrisburg and with conditions in general."

But the successes of Beveridge and

SENATOR WILLIAM E. BORAH

Pinchot while not in themselves signifying any recrudescence of progressivism, are recognized in political circles here as revealing a condition of dissatisfaction and unrest that may foreshadow a political realignment more sweeping and permanent than that which resulted in the organization of the Bull Moose Party in 1912.

When Pennsylvania, heretofore most rock-ribbed of machine strongholds, kicks over the organization applecart, what may be expected in the states of the Middle West and West where control is uncertain and majorities small?

"GYMANFA GANN" PLANNED AT GOMER WELSH CHURCH

Rev. R. R. Davis, Wilkes Barre, Pa., will wield the baton. He will deliver three sermons Saturday evening, Sunday at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. The Sunday evening service will be devoted to song.

ORDER TO ARREST CRANE IGNORED

Paris Disregards Sentence of American in Syria

MISUNDERSTANDING SEEN

Ex-Envoy to China Given 20 Years in Prison

PARIS (United Press) — Charles R. Crane, former American ambassador to China and authority upon the Far East, laughed today upon informed an order for his arrest and imprisonment for 20 years as a charge of inciting to riot had been issued by the French government in Syria.

"It is based upon a misunderstanding," said Crane, who has just returned from Syria, "and I am sure the French government officials here totally ignore the order for Crane's arrest and he will out and about a free man in a few days."

Crane said that when he was leaving Damascus, his automobile was surrounded by a mob through which he gave him an enthusiastic shout, but that he knew of no rioting.

In an interview with the United Press, Crane said:

"I had not a single disagreeable experience with either the native or French authorities, in Syria nor in the night."

RIGHT TO TRAVEL

"I regarded in my private capacity as a student of the Moslem world, which have been studying for 44 years, have as much right to travel here as any one. I should like to see an affidavit from the correspondent who sent the story that has sentenced to 20 years in prison."

Crane's interview with Premier Poincaré, planned for today, was canceled.

The foreign office today characterized the story of Crane's sentence as "absurd." Crane was in Beirut and interviewed General Gouraud at Constantinople, being most cordially received by the French commander at the time he was reported to be under sentence.

CRANE SPEAKS PLAINLY

PARIS (Associated Press) — The French foreign office has no knowledge of the reported conviction of Charles R. Crane, former American minister to China, by a French military court, in Damascus, on a charge of inciting a riot as reported in press dispatches, it was said today.

Crane today continued his accusation of conditions in Syria while leading Frenchmen, in full confidence that the report of his conviction by a French military court in Damascus for inciting a riot was an error.

"If Crane appears to have expressed himself last week very plainly in the mandate commission of the League of Nations council in Geneva regarding the disturbed political situation in Syria. The substance of his declaration was that the Syrians wanted, first of all, complete independence and failing that, preferred that the United States take the mandate over the country. If the Americans were unwilling, he said, the Syrians preferred Great Britain, but under no circumstances would he be under the French mandate."

The former diplomat who points out that he was in Syria solely as a private citizen, admits that in the agitated atmosphere prevalent in Syria there may have been some feeling against him, although he declared that in neither Syria nor France as he met with anything but courtesy from the French.

MILLIONS FED BY U. S. QUAKERS

Report Given on Immense Relief Work in Germany

FOOD VALUED AT $8,500,000

American Committee Will Withdraw in July

BERLIN — (Associated Press) — Millions of German children who suffered from hunger in the war time and afterward probably will remember the manna-like meals provided for them by the American Quakers long after they have forgotten the name of the American Friends Service committee which will withdraw from Germany at the end of July, after two and one-half years of relief work here.

The budget committee of the reichstag recently approved an appropriation of 50,000,000 marks for the purchase of foodstuffs to continue the child-feeding program when the American supplies have been exhausted. These supplies are now expected to last until September 30. Dr. Bose, chairman of the German Central Committee for Foreign Relief and director of the food ministry, said the government had granted the full amount he requested for this purpose but the Quaker feeding so strongly gripped the popular mind that some members of the party of the Left demanded a great increase in the federal grant for that purpose.

300 WAREHOUSES

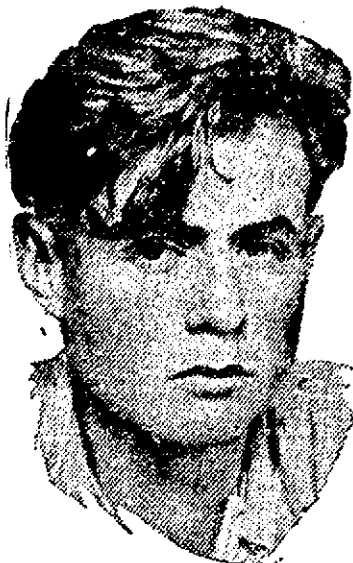

The Friends organization has been established in 1,440 towns which contain about one-half of the entire population of Germany. Its supplies were stored in more than 300 warehouses and its food was prepared in more than 250 kitchens and served from 8,360 feeding places, mostly schools and child-welfare institutions.

The money value of the American food provided has been estimated at $8,500,000.

"This amount is less than one-fourth the cost of a first-class battleship," said Francis R. Bacon of Philadelphia, chairman of the Friends committee.

He added that from the beginning the Quakers had the full support of the German government which,

Accused of Threat Against Film Star

Charles Caprice, as he gave his name, showed here, was arrested at the home of Bebe Daniels, the movie star, where he said at first he had gone to kill her, professing to have been hired for $25 to commit the crime. Later he told police he simply was after certain information. Miss Daniels said she had never heard of him or of the man he declared had offered $25 for her life. The prisoner was committed to the psychopathic ward of the Los Angeles county hospital for observation.

since October, 1923, furnished all the flour and sugar used in the ration given to the children. The American feeding reached its height in June and July last year when more than 1,600,000 children were receiving an extra meal daily thru American bounty.

GIRLS! LEMONS WHITEN THE SKIN

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate. adv

SUFFERED SO LONG SHE WAS LOSING HEART

Mrs. Bartlett Has Gained in Weight, Feels Fine and After Effects Of Flu Entirely Gone Since Taking Tanlac

"Years of nervousness, stomach trouble and general run-down condition were ended for me by taking Tanlac," said Mrs. Frances Bartlett, 1106 Norwood-av., Toledo, Ohio.

"I had the 'flu' over a year ago and it left me so weak I nearly broke down. When I even tried to sweep the floor I would give out completely, and I almost lost heart. My appetite was very poor, and my food caused gas that made me suffer agonies. I was so weak I couldn't walk a block without resting."

"My husband heard so much about Tanlac that he got a bottle for me. After taking three bottles I felt I had been made into a new woman. I have regained much weight and indigestion never bothers me. I am so happy over Tanlac I just want to tell other sufferers about this wonderful medicine."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

LIKE CLOUDS ACROSS A SUMMER SKY

foretelling the dreaded storm are the symptoms of women's diseases which point the way to physical and mental breakdown. The nervous irritability, the headache, the dragging pains, are not only hard to endure, but they bring certain knowledge of collapse unless something is done to relieve the sufferer. There is one standard remedy which has shown the way out for nearly fifty years. The women who have "come back" through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound present an argument stronger than words could ever be. adv

American Lumber King Stops at no Obstacle

GOES, CAPTURES TRADE

His Success Aboard Commented on by Forbes

(BY B. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK (Special)—Here are two true getting-on anecdotes which will interest both those who have climbed the hill of success and those who hope to. The incidents throw sidelights not only on how one man has attained unusual success, but on how resourcefulness has helped to build up America's foreign trade.

Complaints were being received by this man from his manager in Japan that he could not sell any more lumber there, that the demand which formerly had been quite large, had dropped off completely because the prices asked were above the prices offered by others. Following his usual custom, this successful American proceeded to the scene of the trouble—believes in going always to see things for himself, no matter what part of the globe he may have to visit. Arriving in Japan his manager explained that their prices were $2 per thousand feet above competitors' prices.

"Invite four or five of the largest lumber buyers to come to meet me," the manager was told. He did. After the usual cordial greetings indulged in by Orientals—the buyers were all Japanese—the American invited them to accompany him to the huge pond where American consignments of lumber were stored until needed.

"Come with me and let's examine the lumber," said the American as he started to thread his way among the logs and lumber floating in the pond. But when he looked around he found that they had not ventured from the bank. They explained to him that they weren't anxious to have a bath with all their clothes on, which they knew they would have if they tried to walk across loose logs.

But the American did not propose that his plan should miscarry. He had planks hastily nailed across the logs so that the Japanese could walk on to the pond more safely.

Then he asked them to take a good look at the class of lumber he was supplying and the class the others were supplying—this man's lumber had his trademark stamped on every board.

The difference was so great that the buyers admitted there was no comparison between the two grades.

"Do you want to continue buying inferior lumber, or do you want the kind of lumber I sell?" he asked them.

All agreed that his lumber was worth far more than the $2 per thousand difference in price.

From that day to this, this American has not only done more business than any other shipper but perhaps as much as all other competitors combined.

The Chinese revolution suddenly upset the business this same American was doing with the Chinese. Also it knocked on the head the furnishing of freight for his customers engaged in this trade. What would he do about it? What could he do?

This is what he did do about it. Deep reflection convinced him that there were possibilities of greatly developing trade with the Philippine Islands. To the Philippines he went. He hadn't been in the hotel an hour when he received a summons from the governor general to come to see him at once. After brief, business-like formalities the governor said:

"I have a sunbath ready to have put under your command. I want you to visit the different islands to see whether you can't spot some possibility for developing trade between here and the mainland. We need very badly to develop such commerce. I don't know what to do about it, but you, with your experience may be able to give me practicable, feasible advice."

For thirteen days the American cruised among the Philippine Islands with his business eyes wide open. When he came to the southern islands where he saw coconuts lying on the ground in countless numbers, he said to himself, "there ought to be a demand in the United States for copra and coconut oil."

He immediately made investigations as to the supply, the costs, etc., and cabled a price to his New York representative. Back came the reply that business could be done provided a three years contract were entered into. He needed cargo so badly that—not without some misgivings—he closed the big deal.

When he reported to Governor General Forbes what he had done the latter jumped from his seat and hugged him, exclaiming, "that's exactly what we need."

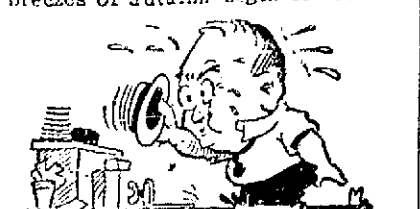

Is it astonishing that such initiative and resourcefulness have resulted in this man being the only American owning American cargo ships plying between the Pacific and the Orient today? There isn't another privately owned American cargo ship trading between the Pacific coast and the Far East at this moment. All the other ships in the business are owned by the Shipping Board, and you and I are footing the bill for their losses.

This man is Robert Dollar, whose fleet of ships today totals twenty-six, whose lumber interests are colossal, and whose offices and commercial ramifications cover the greater part of the globe. Altho 78, he still travels every year enough to circle the earth, with a few thousand miles to spare. And, fortunately for America, he has three sons very capable of running the vast Dollar enterprises.

Impressions Brought By Torrid Days

There is nothing like a little hot weather to take the pep out of everybody and make them feel like knocking off work and take a permanent vacation, until the cooler breezes of autumn begin to blow.

Just picture the tired business man getting down to work on a hot morning. His shirt is unbuttoned, his face is covered with sweat and his desk is weighted down with work that should be done immediately. The thought of work makes him perspire the more.

Can you blame him for slipping out of the office the minute the stenographer's back is turned and hiding himself to a soft drink emporium or to the vicinity of his own ice box? A good fan and a couple gallons of a cooling drink helps to make the hot weather bearable.

Swimming pools do their bit in cooling the heated populace of the crowded city. In some cities these are outdoor affairs. Here in Lima we depend upon the S. M. C. A. tank and the pool at McCullough's park. Young and old find rejuvenation at these places.

All the joy is taken out of life, however, when after a hot day a cooling breeze starts blowing and we begin to hope for relief, we pick up a weather report which says "Warmer tomorrow."

Electric fans, ice cold drinks and daily swims all seem futile when the government, which is supposed to be of the people, by the people and for the people, continues to let the weather bureau wish torrid weather onto us.

CRUTCHES DO NOT HALT HIKERS

Crippled Man Making Overland Trip to California

Hiking from Newark, Delaware, to Modesto, California, would not be so bad if one had good legs but, what if one leg was useless and the other was broken and you had to walk on crutches?

Seven days ago Adam Cherry, 51, left Newark for sunny California. Friday morning he started out of Lima on the Lincoln Highway for Chicago.

Cherry is crippled in his hips and can only walk with the aid of crutches. One hip has been broken and did not heal right and the other leg is shortened and practically useless.

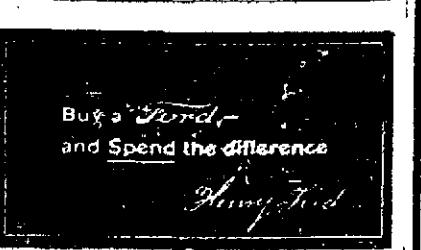

This did not deter him from starting on his long journey. He felt sure that motorists along the way would give him rides and that he would make the trip easily.

His belief has proven correct. From the time he left home he has been riding almost continuously. His condition attracts attention and the motorists are always willing to give him a ride, he says. It will be three months before Cherry will be in California if the present schedule holds out, but if rides prove as frequent in the future as they have in the past week, he may make the journey in much less time.

All of his personal effects are carried in a little bag which is fastened to his shoulders. He has no difficulty in manipulating his burden. Cherry plans to become interested in the canning industry when he arrives in California. Modesto is in the heart of the fruit country and opportunities are many, he believes.

TO ESCAPE CHAIR THRU OPERATION?

Doomed Man Saved From Natural Death by Treatment

NEW COURT ACTION SOUGHT

"Never Killed Anybody," Prisoner Says Under Ether

(By EDWARD M. THIERRY)
NEW YORK — (Special) — Is it more humane to let a condemned man die of illness or to use medical and surgical science to save him for death by execution?

In the anesthesia of surgery a humane way of determining the guilt of a condemned man?

These questions, arising out of the strange case of Rutter B. Warden, art troubling lawyers, physicians, psychologists and humanitarians.

Warden, convicted of murdering Henry Werner, a Herkimer-co farmer, is the first person in 31 years to be taken from the death house, at Sing Sing, to undergo an operation to save him from a natural death in order that he might die a legal death in the electric chair.

That the law might not be cheated he was rushed to the operating room and Dr. Amos O. Squire operated on him for appendicitis. And under the ether Warden murmured these startling words:

"I never killed anybody!"

Now he is recovering. And one more court effort is being made to save him from the chair. The operation was successful, and he now awaits a final court appeal.

"Warden probably would have died had we not operated," said Dr. Squire. "There is no question in my mind that the proper medical procedure is to correct a serious ailment no matter if the victim is doomed to die by electrocution."

It is only a question of not being both chest the chair, and in Warden's case it is significant that under the anesthetic he repeated his declarations of innocence. I think he is innocent — and the number of the murdered man said the same thing in a letter asking for clemency.

Thomas Mott Osborne, former warden of Sing Sing and nationally famous for his prison reform work, said:

"It is absurd to save a guilty man by surgery only that the law may be kept. But if incidentally it helps to establish his innocence it is another matter. It only shows how ridiculous is the rigid application of such law as capital punishment."

Grace Humiston, one of the most noted women lawyers in the country, believes such surgery is humane and that anesthesia is capable of making a man tell the truth.

"The subconscious mind always tells the truth," she said. "While there is life there is hope, and it is entirely humane to save a life by surgery if only for the slender hope that something may develop at the eleventh hour to establish the man's innocence. I believe in the abolition of the death penalty."

"What is needed is a public defender of as high legal attainments and salary as prosecuting attorneys so that mistakes and problems of this sort will not occur."

CARP, "HOG OF THE FISH FAMILY," TO BE SEINED FROM LEWISTOWN LAKE

Carp are to be seined out of Indian Lake, A. C. Baxter, chief of the state fish and game department, announced.

Work of removing the fish from all of the inland Ohio lakes is to be undertaken by the state. The carp are to be sold to commercial fishermen.

Seining of Buckeye Lake is already completed. It was learned Friday, and preparations are being made to move on to Indian Lake. Tiffin Gimre, game warden will supervise the work.

Bass and other game fish are brought up in the nets and will be thrown back. Carp weighing as high as 25 pounds were brought up by the nets at Buckeye Lake.

The mud burrowing proclivities of the carp is said to prevent more edible fish from spawning.

$50,000,000 IN SALARIES PAID BY MOVIE FIRMS

PITTSBURGH — A plea for the public to stand behind and help the motion picture producers in their efforts to maintain a clean moral tone in film productions was voiced here today by Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, before an audience at Carnegie Institute.

He declared he was entirely convinced of the sincerity of the large producers and distributors in the organization and he pledged his hearers the best efforts of his association.

He stated that $50,000,000 a year is paid in movie admissions and that the industry represents an investment of $500,000,000, employing 50,000 persons at annual salaries totalling $50,000,000.

ELEVEN LIMA BOYS FALL INTO LAW'S CLUTCHES AS TRAIN RIDERS, AT WAPAK

Eleven Wapakoneta, girls missed their "sweeties" Thursday night, when an equal number of Lima youths were arrested as train riders, by Wapakoneta police.

A cold night in jail, was the result of the law's activity.

Arrest of the boys came on complaint by R. & O. officials that gangs of boys from Lima were beating their way down the line. Wapakoneta was their destination.

Wapakoneta police took the party in tow at the B. & O. station Thursday night shortly after they alighted from a south bound freight. All were booked on suspicion and released Friday with orders to get out of town.

The boys were registered as: Joe King, Joe Helming, Mike King, Jack Stapleton, Frank Kraft, Ed Clark, Buck Casey, Dudley Parker, John Miller, Robert Brown and Harold Gibbon.

POPE CONVERTED TO BASEBALL

Enthusiastically Indorses K. of C. Athletic Program

GIVES SITE OF PAPAL LAND

Never Before Has Such Offer Been Made

BY EDWARD L. HEARN
European Commissioner of Knights of Columbus.

ROME—(Special)—Pius XI will go down in history as the Young Man's Pope—for he has made it known that one of his prime concerns is the welfare of the youth of his native land.

As European commissioner of the Knights of Columbus it has been my privilege to have the longest private audience accorded so far by His Holiness to a layman. I laid before him the plans of the Knights of Columbus for the establishment and conduct of the $1,000,000 American welfare work which they

E. L. HEARN have undertaken in Italy as a tribute to the memory of Columbus, their patron, and to the memory of the late Pope Benedict XV, who personally invited the Knights to take up this particular undertaking.

His Holiness received me cordially. He is a tall, athletically built man, and he speaks English with very little accent, for an Italian. He reads it freely, too, often perusing London and American newspapers.

"I am glad to see you," he said, shaking my hand. "As the representative of the Knights of Columbus you are welcome to the Holy See. I salute you, too, as a knight commander of the Order of St. Gregory the Great."

The pope seated myself and my secretary comfortably. I drew out of my pocket papers on which the report had been carefully prepared. The pope smiled at their bulk and, with a gesture, indicated that I proceed. He heard me patiently, occasionally nodding with the English equivalent of the Italian "bravo"—"good."

When I reached the part of the report in which was stressed the importance of athletics as a medium of benefit for the Italian youth his face beamed.

"That is the thing for the boys!" he declared. "They must have these games and the American games are especially fitted for the climate of Italy."

Pope Pius XI is famous, among his human qualifications, for a fondness for strenuous exercise. That explains his enthusiasm for the part of the K. of C. program calling for the introduction of baseball.

I had not gone far in explaining its merits as a healthy builder and mental stimulant to youth when His Holiness arose suddenly from his chair and beckoned me to the large window of his study.

He pointed out beyond the screen over the dome of St. Peter's to a large plot of sandy turf.

"The Knights of Columbus shall have that site for their field," he declared, "so that I can see for myself from my study window what progress they are making here in the heart of Rome."

It was the first time in history that such an offer had been made by any pope. I was amazed, but His Holiness had evidently determined on this gift of papal land long before I saw him, for he reached into his drawer and drew out a large map.

"This map will be sent to you," he said. "It will show you clearly where this site is, and what its possibilities are for adaptability to the program of welfare work the Knights of Columbus undertake."

HEADQUARTERS IN ROME I then explained to His Holiness that the K. of C. had already taken up Roman headquarters at 25 Via Maratone, in the midst of the city and readily accessible to tourists. I informed His Holiness that in this headquarters the K. of C. had made arrangements to assist the comfort of the scores of Americans who would visit Rome for the great Eucharistic Congress during the last week of May.

"That is achievement," said the pope. "I am delighted at the appropriateness of the Knights of Columbus returning to Italy, after their war welfare work in that country for American service men."

"It is very fitting that you undertake this task," he said, "for it is no less important than any other kind of relief work. You will bring closer the relations between your country and Italy."

"I have a profound admiration for the idealism of America, which is none the less practical and can see the advantage to domestic morale of the extension to other countries of advantages which America enjoys."

ITALY IN HARD STRAITS "Italy is still struggling from the economic disadvantages entailed by the war; and in coming to us with your strength you are bestowing upon us an unqualified blessing."

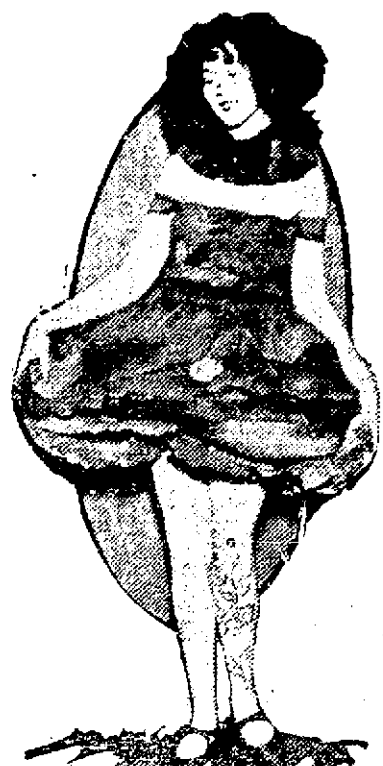

"Please," he asked me, before I quit the papal presence, "convey to the supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus, and to the supreme officers and the members of the supreme board of directors and to every individual knight and their families, my fervent blessing. Their achievements for America have aroused my admiration. I have for some years watched their progress as an organization devoted to practical, patriotic works."

"Trust their example in Italy will be as effective as it is meritorious." The interview had lasted 25 minutes.

APPEAL IS MADE FOR CHILDREN

Tag Day for Playground Aid to be Held Saturday

LEADERS ARE ENTHUSIASTIC

Chaperons Named for Children in Button Sale

Appeal of the child for supervised playgrounds in Lima struck deep into the hearts of every Lima person, according to Mrs. S. M. Williams, who is in charge of publicity of the playground campaign.

When the hot days come and the kiddies have no place to seek shelter from the sun's rays, it is then the boys and girls turn mostly to these playgrounds. Mrs. Williams believes it makes good women and men out of children who might otherwise fall in various ways.

TAG DAY, SATURDAY "Therefore, when people send us their dollar for membership or contribute to the button day Saturday, they are giving to one of the greatest causes on earth," Mrs. Williams declared.

From 8 a. m. until 8:30 p. m., children of the playground will be upon Lima streets, asking persons to buy the small buttons. It is hoped to secure $1,000 from this effort.

Women who have offered their services will be with each child to see that they are given civil attention and to look after interests of the playgrounds in explaining the object of the solicitation, should any one so desire.

Boys and girls are enthusiastic about tag day and have entered into sale of the buttons with zeal. The buttons, or tags, will be of white, with the letters, "P. G. C." meaning Playground club, inscribed thereon.

Headquarters for Tag day arrangements are at the Harman store. The Girls' Welfare leagues of Central and South High schools are contributing their share toward assistance for the day. For some years past they have provided milk in Lima schools for under-nourished children. All their interests are centered in helping children to become healthy, happy little tots.

Annually, they hold frolics at high school auditoriums, from which they secure funds to carry on the work of aiding nutrition classes.

CHAPERONS NAMED Women who will act as chaperons and who have kindly offered their services are: Mrs. C. W. Bell, Mrs. C. A. Arganbright, Mrs. May Kibby Clark, Mrs. Theodore Eysenbach, Mrs. Ellis Jones, Mrs. L. C. Town-

They have been in the habit of taking out the machine for joyrides without his knowledge, Harris says. The quartette was turned over to Juvenile Officer Frank Chapman.

popular and political psychology, he had chosen the offensive names for his ships thinking of the men who bore them as persons whom Germany once idolized and imagining the people still did so. When he realized his error, it was too late.

But that is about the only mistake that can be charged up to Stinnes in the shipping game. One of his greatest strokes has been to plan two fleets of ships. One is to consist of 12,000-tonners and the other of 3000-tonners. His experts have advised him that 12,000-ton ships are not only much cheaper than the titanic vessels, are not only run more economically, but ton for ton will perhaps earn more money and give better service than the huge floating hotels.

HAS EYE ON RUSSIA

The Stinnes 3000-ton ships are being built for a specific purpose. Stinnes, like every wide awake German business man, has his eyes on Russia. Some day and not very long off he expects that immense country to be opened once more to the commerce of the world. With the almost total breakdown and ruin of the Russian railways, the main means of transport of goods to and from Russia for some years will be by sea. Stinnes has an entire department of his executive branch here in Berlin devoted to the study of Russia. They are experts on Russia.

Only recently the director of this department returned from a personal visit and reported to his chief that eight years, of war, blockade and neglect have put Russian harbors into a terrible state. The big freight ships that America and England have will probably not be able to negotiate those harbors. But where they fail, the Stinnes 3000-tonners will glide in like ducks on a mill pond. So will the Stinnes tankers built at Kiel.

Already Stinnes' ships are busy at work feeding other branches of the Stinnes business. They bring iron ore from Sweden and timber from Finland. Thus they fetch raw material for Stinnes' blast furnaces and Stinnes' paper, pulp and cellulose mills. And they carry back to Sweden and Finland, from Stinnes' mills, some of the manufactured materials these countries so badly need. As they ply back and forth, these vessels also pass another interesting set of Stinnes' ships. These are mere smacks but they carry the Stinnes house flag and they are engaged in the very important job of helping to feed Germany. They are the Stinnes' herring fleets.

WAR OPENED CHILD LABOR

Conditions in Ohio Outrageous Unbelievable, Tetlow Says

TOTS 6, WORKED IN FIELD

Asks Attorney General For Opinion on Situation

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press)

How to stop the employment of from 3,000 to 4,000 children between the ages of 6 to 16, said to be working in Ohio's non fields under "outrageous and unbelievable" conditions, was a problem which today had been placed before Attorney General Percy Tetlow.

Declaring in a letter to the attorney general that the children were working six days a week weeding and topping onions in the Harding and surrounding fields and that many of them, as old as fifteen years were still in the first or second grades of school, Tetlow pointed out that they were unaffected by the state child labor law which exempted agriculture. He suggested that school laws governing attendance be invoked to take the children out of the fields and asked that the attorney general advise him as to procedure.

INSANITARY CONDITIONS

State Health department investigators recently inspected the fields Tetlow said; submitting their report which declared that the families are living under insanitary conditions that their homes were shanties, and that there were no amusements and no churches. Many of the families, the report said, spent the winter in Kentucky and migrate northward in the spring to work in the onion fields. Wages range from $1.50 to $2.00 a day, it was said.

Tetlow said it was his purpose to do away with the employment of the children if it is possible to do so in any way.

ROOSEVELT TO BE BOSS BUILDER

Franklin D. Made Chairman of Construction Council

WILL "LANDIS" INDUSTRY

Job Parallels Those of Baseball and Movie Chiefs

Franklin D. Roosevelt takes office next fall as chairman of the American Construction Council, a job paralleling that of Judge Landis in baseball and Will Hayes in movie.

In his first authorized statement, Roosevelt, the "boss builder," says that in coordinating the industry in the interest of public welfare, he will work toward these two chief ends: Abolishing unemployment in building industries. Lowering the cost of construction of homes.

Roosevelt's appointment will be ratified at a meeting in Washington June 18 and 19. He is 40, cousin of the late Theodore Roosevelt, a former state senator, former assistant secretary of the navy, in 1930 Democratic nominee for vice president, and now president of the Fidelity and Deposit Co.

By FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, NEW YORK.—(Special).—Every component part of the building industry has joined in the formation of the American Construction Council.

Problems the council will attempt to solve include two of immense importance to the public—ending unemployment and lowering the cost of building construction.

No effort ever has been made to coordinate the various branches of the building industry, altho it is the second largest industry in United States, giving employment to 2,000,000 men and with a delayed program of new construction estimated at $15,000,000,000.

There has been no system in building construction, no co-operation between contractors, material manufacturers and labor.

It is the aim now to bring all the forces of building construction together. What this means to the public may be summarized as follows:

Reports from members of the American Construction Council show that the building industry is so far behind that already a shortage of skilled labor exists in certain localities.

And it is predicted that before fall there will be a general shortage of common labor.

It is felt that great danger lies in efforts suddenly to resume all the great building projects that have been held up.

To avoid this danger it is planned to lay out a national program of construction work in the four great divisions—highway, railroad, municipal and private building.

Thus labor will be steadied. Instead of an overwhelming rush of work at one moment and stagnation the rest—a feast for labor followed by a famine—an adjustment of the program can provide continuous labor for everyone.

CLEARING HOUSE

By teamwork among all construction interests a clearing house will be established to collect information on projected building. Obstacles to lowering the cost of construction will disappear.

Labor will be better off, with steady wages the year around. The material manufacturer will be able to operate his factory on an even keel. The contractor will not be held up for lack of material.

In this manner the entire industry can be put on the same economical basis on which other industries are run.

More than 250 national associations have joined in creating the American Construction Council.

There are ten groups—architects; engineers; general contractors; subcontractors; construction labor; material and equipment manufacturers; material and equipment dealers; financial, bond, insurance and real estate organizations; public utility construction departments; and representatives of federal, state, county and municipal bureaus of department concerned with construction.

EXECUTIVE BODY

The council will operate thru an executive committee of two representatives from each group. Each association will elect delegates to the council and all groups will have equal voting power.

All meetings will be open to the public. Adjustments and differences will be carried on in the open.

HEARTBURN AND CONSTIPATION

They Quickly Make One Nervous and Sleepless.

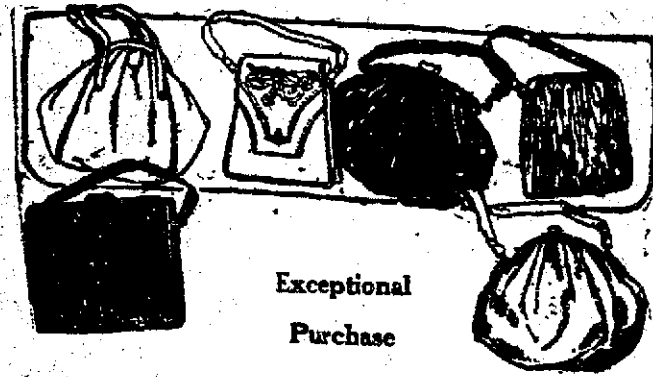

Heartburn is simply an indication of the manufacture of poisonous acid and gas in the stomach. The throat becomes the chimney of the stomach, through which some of the poisonous gas escapes, giving one a cold breath and causing great pain at times. Usually, while it is found that the sufferer is physically constipated which adds to the physical discomfort and the danger of a nervous breakdown. It is the sufferer from indigestion and constipation and especially when there is in the family a family remedy that from Muskogee, Mich., Mrs. Grignon writes that she was a great sufferer from heartburn and constipation. She had terrible pains in her stomach and back and she could not sleep. She had one full bottle of the remedy and she found such relief that she slept peacefully and had no return of the trouble at any time. You can get one dollar a bottle and all drug stores are authorized to give the money back if the first bottle fails to give satisfaction.

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mul-sified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mul-sified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mul-sified in a cup of glass with a little warm water is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mul-sified, adv

PRINCESS MARY FURNISHES PATTERN FOR NEW BRIDAL FROCKS

(By MARION HALE)
THE role of June bride has been played by millions of women, with varying degrees of success, there is always a chance for the beginner to add new touches and make her characterization distinctive.
This season, in the matter of costumes, brides are following the precedent of Princess Mary. Consequently, we see less white than usual. Many of the most favored gowns this season are of lace or silk tissues, unadorned or dotted with designs in pearls.
Instead of looking very formidable and austere in a white gown, high necked and very long, the June bride looks very much like herself and manages to put her own particular personality in her frock.
Some of the bridal gowns are very short—American women simply won't take kindly to the long skirt—but the ceremonial effect is gained by the addition of a long train, which is usually fastened from the shoulders.
Of course, the bride who has inherited some old lace always uses it on her wedding gown. If it is a small piece she usually incorporates it into her head-dress. If she has several yards

AN ESPECIALLY ORNATE BRIDAL GOWN OF THIS SEASON. NOTE ELABORATE HEADRESS.

FREQUENTLY, we must admit, the weakest point in the bridal outfit is the head-dress. Because women so rarely wear this sort of thing they are likely to get the wrong effect when they attempt it.
The Dutch cap, with the points over the ears, the Spanish cap, which is a high-pointed treatment, and the Russian cap, with the wide band surrounding the face, are all helpful suggestions learned from foreign lands.
The relation between white satin and pearls is so close a one that it is no wonder that the favorite jewel of the bride is the pearl. The play of jewelry, excepting her engagement ring, and the bar pin which is so frequently the gift of the groom.
Often the buckles of the white satin slippers, however, are jeweled.

THE bridesmaid's role is a decorative one and her selection of a gown offers a much wider range of possibilities. Taffeta, made into bouffant frocks, georgette, lace and organdie are the favored materials, and they are cut on the lines of the fashionable frocks for afternoon or evening, according to the time of the ceremony.
Usually the bride asks her maids to dress alike, and she plans the costumes and the colors, to match her general scheme. This year the large picture hat is the bridesmaid's choice in millinery.

PRISON PAROLES SPEEDED UP

Action Taken to Relieve Congestion at Marysville

COLUMBUS—(Associated Press)—The state board of pardons and paroles will speed up paroling of prisoners at the Marysville Reformatory as one means of relieving congestion at the institution, which has a population now of 200 against adequate accommodations for only 100, it was declared today by James E. Clark, member of the board.
The congestion became worse than ever yesterday when 50 women who had been working in homes in Union and surrounding counties without being formally paroled, were returned to the institution. The parole board immediately paroled 14 of the women returned and they will go back to the homes in which they have been employed early in June.
Twenty-five other prisoners who previously had been granted paroles effective in July, will be released between June 1 and 10. Mr. Clark said. Again on June 20, the board will hear applications of 25 to 30 new prisoners at the reformatory.
C. W. C. Perry, superintendent of prisons and paroles, today was at the state brick plant at Junction City to interview 35 honor men whose applications are among 200 now being heard at the penitentiary June 1. Nearly 200 applications also will be heard on at the Mansfield reformatory June 13.

aunt, Miss Stella Crumrine, 796 S. Main-st.
It was during these summer visits that the two became good friends and soon sweethearts.
How to accomplish their desire was the next question. It was decided that Eleanor should come to Lima to visit her aunt as usual and then the two would slip away and be married in Michigan.
A week ago Eleanor arrived in Lima and Thursday they departed in an automobile, owned by Ray Crumrine, to be married. Their relatives did not know the purpose of their trip until they returned late Thursday night.
"I guess I'll have to adopt both of them and keep them here with me," Miss Crumrine said Friday. The couple is expected to visit Cleveland soon.

FARMER IS CHAMP BEARD GROWER

North Dakota Man's Whiskers Measure Sixteen Feet

HE CARRIES 'EM IN A SACK

Shaved Last When 29 Years Old,
Now 75

WAHPETON, N. D.—(Associated Press)—The civic pride has prompted the male population of Wahpeton, N. D., to go unshaven in preparation for the "Days of 49" celebration, a goodly share of the "local color" promises to be provided by a retired farmer of North Dakota.

For Hans N. Langseth, 75-year-old resident of this county, is going out California way to show the "boys" a beard that is a beard, as he puts it. By actual measurement, his is several inches more than sixteen feet.

A score of years ago, Langseth was traveling with a side show. But the public refused to believe his beard was real. The same old "bunk," they said, and passed up his tent. So he went back to farming 46 YEARS WITHOUT SHAVE.

Langseth was born in Norway. He lived in Iowa from 1867 to 1895 and then moved to Clayco, Minnesota, where he lived two years before settling in this county.

Not since he was 29 years old has Langseth shaved. Then he noticed that his beard grew remarkably fast, so he decided to see what length it would attain. It's too long now for conveniences but he carries it tucked away in a sack attached to the inside of his waistcoat.

KU KLUX KLAN OPENS DRIVE FOR MEMBERS

CANTON. — The purpose of the Ku Klux Klan is to band together all Protestant Gentiles who are Caucasian and American born.

This was the declaration of Dr. C. L. Harrod, of Columbus, king kleeagle of the Klan in Ohio, in addressing 2,000 men and women who attended a mass meeting in Nimisla Park here last night. The meeting, according to Klansmen, opened a state drive for members and will be followed by similar gatherings in other cities throughout the state.

"We would have had 10,000 at the meeting if it had not rained," said an officer of the Klan which claims 4,500 members in Stark-co.

Both Dr. Harrod and Billy Parker, editor of "The Menace," devoted a good part of their speeches to an attack on Catholicism.

U. S. KIDDIES BUILD
ALBANIA SCHOOL

Fund Raised by Nickel, Dime Contributions

INSTITUTION IS DEDICATED

Ceremony Attended by Members of Diplomatic Corps

TIRANA, Albania — (Associated Press)—Nickels and dimes contributed by the children of the United States have made possible the establishment of a vocational school for Albanian boys and girls. The institution, which has accommodations for 300 pupils, has just been formally dedicated by Dr. A. Ross Hill, formerly president of Missouri University and now American Red Cross commissioner for Europe.

The entire Albanian cabinet, members of the diplomatic corps and representatives of the League of Nations were present at this ceremony.

The Albanian Vatra Band from Worcester, Mass., played "The Star Spangled Banner" while the American flag was hoisted on the school. Addresses were made by Dr. Hill and Ambrose Kelly, of Mechanicville, N. Y., director of the school.

The Albanian minister of education accepted the gift on behalf of the government and said the school would be a constant reminder of the generosity and thoughtfulness of the children of America who were ever ready to help their little sisters and brothers in foreign lands. He said it would be the constant effort of the instructors to inculcate in the Albanian children the high moral principles and ideals which had made America so great.

DOLLARS and SENSE

Dollars and sense go hand in hand. Where you find sense you will find dollars somewhere near, a man with sense will find dollars. Put thousands of dollars in the pocket of a person without sense and the dollars will take wings and fly away—the old adage "A Fool and His Money Is Soon Parted" will be exemplified. Because Christmas is near is no reason why you should part company with dollars and sense. If you wish to have dollars and sense as friends, trade at PIGGLY WIGGLY where your dollars will buy the most, where your sense will tell you that you are getting the best. PIGGLY WIGGLY has a reputation to maintain and sells only goods with reputations, that is the advantage of buying from a store with a reputation, as it must all ways try to live up to that reputation.

OPEN LETTERS

To E. H. Kettler and Associates

DEAR FRIENDS: Congratulations on your new lease on Lizzie-st. You will have a wonderful show room in that new Steiner foot-age. I like my sons to be progressive and my heart fills with ineffable pride when I see you step out and expand. Good boy, E. H.

LIMA BEANE

To Hotel Owners

DEAR BOYS: Business picked up in the beereries during All-Lions day. Lima may never be a state renowned convention place, but many small gatherings could be held here, if proper effort were made. I need a convention committee of hotel men and restaurateurs to watch and bid for visitors. The C. of C. will get the big affairs.

LIMA BEANE

To Judge Emmet J. Jackson

DEAR MORGAN: You are the only real financier in public life. But why waste your life in an installment factory? Germany needs you. Russia is crying for such as thee. But your first duty is to Uncle Sam. If Warren would give you a job collecting overlooked bootleggers' incomes, the national debt would become a has-been. It's hard on the motorists, but they are so many, and so rich. Chown and Fawcett must blush when they total your collection receipts. As a go-getter of the coin, you are the apple of my eye, the pinch-hitter of a bankrupt city treasury. Congrats!

LIMA BEANE

To Prof. J. E. Collins

DEAR JOHN: Looks like me, you and the school board are overlooking a piece of financing in not having your East approach permanentized while an asphalt company is at your doorstep. Cement will cost more and the labor double, after Mr. Asphalt moves away from Pierce. And certain 'tis, you have been long in the mud at that Administration building. Some wide sidewalks around Educational Square are also long overdue. You have a beautiful plant, but your esthetic taste is baleful. Time to clean up and get the outside in harmony with the inside.

LIMA BEANE

To All Golf Widows

DEAR DECEIVED: You have my heartache with your own. But your husbands are powerful forces in the world of finance and politics, and they needed that extra hour. It means an additional six holes, with time to look for lost balls. Of course, it will discommode the dinner. I believe golfers call it dinner, yet I mean, supper hour. But you promised to obey. And even tho you lose your maid, the one who has been with you these six long weeks, you must not complain. Dinner or supper, at seven o'clock will really be six o'clock, if you keep the kitchen timer on low.

And think how happy hubby will be to take you to the movie, on days he makes a 43. I'll hope he does—take you to the movie. So aid him in his count.

To my other sons and daughters of farmland and shop, my regrets if you didn't want the faster pace. To railroaders, my deepest sympathy. But it leaves one morning train on the B. & O., I believe. Times change, Cicero, or Virgil, or Horace, long since told us, and we must change with them.

Now, if I can interest The Golfers in paying Main-st, I would build hopes of living long enough to see my pet thoro fare a little Fifth-av.

Th' honeymoon's over an' it's almost time for a divorce when th' husband rents a house without his wife first seein' it. Th' greatest point o' interest in any community is a reliable wonderful spring day, so over to the Avenue for a stroll down. Meeting with Will Davis, the oil operator. And bowing in fine friendliness to Jake Stolzenbach, who did school board with me years ago. Chatted a bit with Carl Nels, the Ford provider, who has hard times keeping cars ahead of customers.

Saw Adam Schaffer, the Wapak taylor writer, pushing his way to a cinema house. B. S. Flowers, the home builder, gave me gay greetings. Invited to lunch by an ink salesman. Always accept free lunches, tho many claim nothing is free. We even work to pump our own air.

Met a galaxy of noble business men and discoursed on the times. Chatted too, with Hank Simonton, head of the Good Business movement. And he optimistic and enthusiastic as he always is. A live wire is Hank. Bumped over to Lafayette on the main road, and the bumps worsened on the High-stride come - back. If Lafayette votes for present road builders human nature is queer. One farmer, with a drag, could put the road in condition. But main non. Must wait until fall, and hand out the job to political bosses of the townships. Good roads and politics never grow chummy. To Auditor Phillips

DEAR CLEM: I knew you would come again and here's my right hand. You've been a good servant and, too, the county needs you more than the Erie. Your old pal is plugging along and doing business night and day. So you can stay in the court house another term. And this is a promise, so sleep sound, buy a few cigars, good ones, and keep that pleasant smile for me. Will phone you election night how big is the majority.

LIMA BEANE

To Gasoline Buyers

FRIENDS: Under my new building code, it seems my motor operators will be put to much trouble. Gasoline distributors must be fifty feet from the curb and no driveway from the sidewalk. Will there be ladies? How are my sons and daughters to get their gas?

And this curbstone crusade makes no hit with me. I prefer constructive government rather than destructive decrees. Slow down on the innovations and speed up on the necessities.

LIMA BEANE

To Patriotic Societies

MY FRIENDS: I'm strong for you in your plans for a proper observance of Decoration Day. It is eminently fitting and proper that the heroes of our wars should be honored—both the living and dead.

"Cheers for the living, tears for the dead," is a fine sentiment, to which I wish to most heartily subscribe.

LIMA BEANE

To Lima Youth

DEAR BOYS: Numerous of my citizens tell me that some of you are doing a very provoking thing in tearing up and destroying flowers they have so painstakingly planted. Flowers are a thing of beauty and should not be disturbed.

Please refrain from interfering with the things that add to the beauty of property surroundings and thus aid in enhancing the appearance of my city generally.

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

PLANNING YOUR HOME

(BY DR. R. H. BISHOP)

Of late years, city life has become too crowded. More families every year are removing from stuffy city dwellings and finding homes in suburbs or country.

The big city is no place to give children the advantages of fresh air and freedom. Still it has many advantages, and the city man who moves to the suburbs misses the janitor, the frequent car service, easily accessible stores, and places of amusement.

In erecting a suburban home, it is important that the site be free from natural dampness; that pure water be obtainable; that sewage be not liable to become a source of contamination and that the building is substantial, and sufficiently provided with appliances for heating, lighting and ventilation.

There is a marked difference between towns with sewers and those without. In the former, soggy land can be drained. In the latter it is impossible. If water is conducted thru street mains, care should be exercised to ascertain the source. In sections where wells are used, it is necessary to protect the water-bearing strata against contamination. Frequent chemical analysis and bacteriological examination of the water is desirable. If sewers are not maintained there are several methods adaptable for the disposition of sewage, the description of which space does not allow here. Suffice it to say, there are many sanitary measures the protective suburbanite must consider before planning or selecting his home.

POEMS YOU WILL ENJOY

By BERTON BRALEY

PICNICS
The season's approaching when people are broaching
The subject of picnics and such,
A form of excursion and outdoor diversion
Which never thrilled me very much.

I'm fond of the scenery,
Blue sky and greenery,
But food that's sardine-ery
Lures me in vain—
Sandwiches greasy,
Bacon inedible,
Coffee incredible
Give me a pain!

I love to go tramping the forests and camping
In true aboriginal style;
But picnicking lunches—it's one of my hunches.

Are only a wearisome trial.
Good Lord, deliver us!
Bugs insectivorous,
Famished, omnivorous
Gather in glee;
Butter gets sat upon,
Pie trodden flat upon,
Skeeters get fat upon
People like me!

The picnicking season robs some folk of reason
And makes them most terrible bores,
Who cut up fool capers and leave cans and papers
And talk of "the great out-of-do."

Tho I'm gregarious, Picnickers various Make no hilarious
Comrades, I say.
Yes, if you query me,
I'll add, "Oh, dearie me,
How picnics weary me,
Take 'em away!"

DON'T HAVE TO GET UP NIGHTS ANYMORE

Dayton Man Reports Quick Relief From Bladder Trouble That Caused Him to Get Up 15 to 20 Times Nightly.

Mr. John Lumpkins, 7 Carria St., says in his own home paper, the Dayton Herald: For two years I had to get up 15 to 20 times each night. The sweating and pain was awful. After taking a few doses of Lithiated Buchu, the gravel came, until at least 25 pieces have passed. Some were as large as a bean. I am glad to have this way of telling my fellow sufferers about this great new remedy.

Lithiated Buchu acts on the kidneys and bladder like Epsom Salts on the bowels. It cleans them out, relieving the bladder of all abnormal deposits. The tablets cost 2c each. This price makes it possible to place in the formula several expensive drugs which are useful for relief. The formula is on the package. It is likely you have never taken anything similar. Try a few doses for backache, scalding, scanty or high colored urine, and frequent desire at night.

Be sure to get the Keller formula. Lithiated Buchu at Hunter's 12 Stores and drug stores everywhere, or write The Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, O.—Adv.

THYROID PELLETS? SURE

Your Glands, They're New Goat; Blame 'Em for Everything

(BY MARGARET ROHE)
Mary had a little gland
An endocrine you know,
And at the base of Mary's brain
This gland was sure to grow.

Little gland pituitary,
What a change you've made in Mary,
Caused her actions all to vary
Now that Mary isn't merry.

NEW YORK (Special) —
Have you a little gland in your house? Or maybe it's an infantile.
Anyway, don't tell me you are so behind the times that you are still full of inhibitions, complexes, urges and all the other psychoanalysis what-you-may-call-ems. Oh, my dear, how hopelessly lethargic of you.

Nowadays amongst all us wide-awake, alert, up-to-the-minute egoists internal secretions are the fullest things we're of.

Repressed desires, inferiority complexes, phantasies and what not have all been "checked out" into the cold world to make room for a clubby little bunch of glands of internal secretions of endocrines. We call them all by their regular names, too—pituitary, thyroid, adrenal, pineal, thymus gland—just like that—sometimes I call it after all the preparation and thought we gave to getting up on pre-natal analysis, attending lectures by Andre Tridon and everything and then having to switch to glands so suddenly.

Some of our very best little doctors of medicine are responsible for this very newest inside cult. Driven from writing prescriptions to writing books by the high cost of living and the disgustingly healthy state of their erstwhile best patients, they are turning out volumes that put us on an intimate footing with our internal secretions and internal glands. Wise doctor authors, they know nothing so intriguing as the popular fancy as a close-up of its insides. Our innards are an open book to us after we shut the doctor's book. The perusal of a few chapters guarantees us a more thorough knowledge of the Department of Interior than even Secretary Fall's. Is it any wonder this inside dope has us all agog and that books on en-docrines and hormones are proving better sellers than even "The Sheik" and some of Ethel Dell's?

Take it from me as an inside tip, the cult of the endocrine is the very last word, and life has become just one internal secretion after another.

OLD MAN THYROID
With most of these internal glands we have as yet just a scraping acquaintance, but the thyroid gland at least seems like an old college companion to us pudgy persons.
We've been swallowing so many thyroid pellets this last year in a wild effort to urge off a little excess tonnage that we are quite prepared now to swallow everything we hear about the thyroid gland and all its busy little internal secreting brother and sister glands.

Next to regulating embonpoint and being full of iodine the thyroid gland is especially interesting to me because it solves the mystery of the Adam's apple. All my life I've just been hoping to know why is an Adam's apple? The answer is simply this: "It's a gentleman thyroid gland." What a polyantha thought it is to realize that the more protruberant and like-a-nervous-elevator-at-every-swallow Philip's Adam's apple is, the more full he is of thyroid and temperament.

The thyroid certainly seems to be hitting on all cylinders, for it has a go at the brain as well, and a deficiency of thyroid means a deficiency of mentality and puts you among the subs, while an excess or state of hyperthyroidism means you are right there with the brilliant personality and a hit as an after-dinner speaker.

LITTLE, BUT OH, MY!
All tucked away cosy-like in a bony box at the base of the brain nestles the pituitary. It's little, but oh, my! It can make a giant or a dwarf, a genius or a moron out of you, if you don't watch out. Pituitary is really twins called post and ante and, believe me, which of the two is the best man makes a lot of difference in your life and looks.
The pineal gland is our little old last year's third eye and it and the thymus are glands of childhood that are supposed to exist when we are all grown up. If they still hang around in our vegetative system the result is the angleface, babydoll, marypickford type. Doug on the other gland is all to the adrenal.

Now can you imagine when your infer—I mean internal secretions get to working all wrong? My dear, according to Louis German, M. D., who has written a book all about it, called "The Glands Regulating Personality," just one little gland getting out of step is the answer to everything that goes awry.

If your husband beats you tomorrow, don't fret. It's just that his internal secretions aren't co-ordinating. If you fall in love with your chauffeur, you have only your gonads to blame, and a fainting fit or hysterics when the cook gives notice only means that your adrenals have failed you.

Isn't it all just too beautifully simple for anything?
You see "By their internal secretions ye shall know them" is the slogan of the endocrine fans. Personality, physique, pep—there just ain't nothin' these pesky glands don't regulate.

In the old days, according to Freud, Bill and Jung, you had to tell the story of your life, your real-age and all your dreams before they could say "that" about you. Now, according to Berman, one look at the shape of your nose, a glance at your teeth, a glimpse of an eyebrow and you are immediately put in your proper place along with the rest of the pituitaries, subthyroids or in-fantiloids and there you are.

MISS CHRISTEN'S DAILY PAGE OF CLUB AND SOCIETY EVENTS
TEN, SHE'S READ 1400 BOOKS!

BETTY FORD, "WONDER CHILD" AND PROFESSOR LOUIS TERMAN, PSYCHOLOGIST, WHO "DISCOVERED" HER.

(BY EUGENE COHN)
SAN FRANCISCO — Science has discovered a wonder child here—Betty Ford, 16.

She has never attended school or received special training at home, this little girl has read 1400 books, gained a wide knowledge of history, astronomy and biology, and has written several hundred poems!

Here's how Betty's mind unfolded:

Her memory dates back to the time of feeding by bottle at the age of 12 months.

At 19 months she spoke words clearly and knew the alphabet.

At 20 months she could put picture puzzles together.

When 22 months old she could name 12 birds in a picture.

At 30 months she began inventing stories and at 33 months she had composed jingles and rhymes.

"Silas Marner" and Charles Lamb were her mental fodder at five years old.

She was skillfully operating a typewriter.

Mrs. Charles H. East, of W. High-st, was hostess to the members of the Quilina Bridge, Thursday. At the close of the playing with Mrs. R. O. Bigley holding high score among the guests and Mrs. Harry Pew among the members, the hostess served a dainty lunch.

Next meeting will be held in a fortnight with Mrs. Frank G. Wright of S. Cole-st.

Mrs. A. E. Stacey, of N. Pierce-st, welcomed the members of the Excelsior club and a small group of guests Thursday. Social chat, needlework and contests, in which Mrs. L. C. Bogart was high among the club members and Mrs. E. G. Smith among the guests, were the diversions. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Howard Helmer in serving dainty refreshments. The guests other than members included Mrs. F. C. Drake, Mrs. Arnold Squires, Mrs. E. G. Smith and Mrs. J. McGilton.

Mrs. Howard Helmer will welcome the members of the club at her home on N. Baxter-st, June 1st for an all day gathering and a covered dish luncheon.

Clair Dean, a student at Columbia Military Institute, Columbia, Tenn., arrived in this city Thursday to spend the summer vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Dean, of Shawnee.

Mrs. Howard Kirk returned to her home in Circleville, after a visit with her sister, Mrs. Roy Brower, of N. Cole-st road.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: I get along fairly well, but there is one thing on which we do not agree and it causes quite a bit of trouble. He insists that man always has been and always will be superior to woman. He thinks it foolish for women to enter politics. I tell him that he is narrow minded and that times have changed. He insists that he is right and there are a lot of things that other women do that he objects to if I do them. We quarrel over this matter and sometimes feel that eventually it will separate us.

WORRIED
ARDON my frankness, but I believe you are both being very ridiculous and almost childish in permitting such a matter to cause you so much trouble and disturbance. It is very foolish for one to talk about the "superiority" of sex.

In a famous passage in "Queens' Garden," John Ruskin wrote: "The man's power is active, progressive, defensive. He is eminently the doer, the creator, the discoverer, the defender. His intellect is for speculation and invention, his energy for adventure, for war and for conquest, wherever war is just, whatever conquest is necessary. But the woman's power is for rule, not for battle, and her intellect is not for invention or creation, but for sweet ordering, arrangement and decision. She sees the qualities of things, their claims and their places."

If your husband still insists upon reminding you of his superiority, you can show your superior and higher intellect by refusing to argue and quarrel over so trivial and worthless a matter.

Dear Miss Smart: (1) There are so many thousand-legs around our house. Is there anything I can do to get rid of them? (2) What would be nice to serve at a church organization in June or July? (3) In what year was the big flood—the one when Noah was told to build the ark? (4) After school is out I am thinking of taking up sewing. Do you think I should go on thru school?

GRAY EYES
(1) Drug stores handle preparations which aid greatly in exterminating these pests. (2) A salad, sandwiches, olives and iced tea or ice cream, cakes and lemonade. (3) If the chronology of the Old Testament is accepted as absolutely correct, the time would probably be about 4000 or 4500 B. C. However, the dates are not always correct. (4) Complete your education by all means. It means more to you than all of the sewing in the world.

EMBROIDERING

When embroidering on material so sheer it does not go into embroidery rings well, baste it on white waxed paper. This holds the fabric out quite nicely.

FOR THE BEACH

Rubber capes for beach wear are out on the lines of the popular street models and are sometimes as elaborate as evening wraps. A stunning white one has checks of black, with a white collar, and a corsage of red roses—in rubber, of course.

LEARN A WORD A DAY

TODAY'S word is REPUDIATION.

It is pronounced — re-pu-di-a-shun, with accent on the second and fourth syllables.

It means—the act of casting off, of disowning, of disclaiming, of refusing to have anything to do with, of declining to acknowledge or pay.

It comes from — Latin "repudiare," to repudiate or reject.

It is used like this — "Lloyd George, addressing persons or nations engaged in seeking loans, advises these applicants against entering, at the same time that they ask for credit, into a discussion of the doctrine of repudiation of debts, remarking that while the doctrine 'may be sound,' the discussion, at such a moment, 'is not diplomatic.'"

OUR FIRST YEAR

—BY A BRIDE—

MIDNIGHT ARGUMENT

A terrible shock, one of a practical and disagreeable nature, awaited us after that rehearsal. Those dishes!

To be confronted by kitchen confusion after a romantic night in Norseland! To have to wash dishes while planning to keep Benny from eloping! To let Jack, for the twentieth time, take over my part of the business of home-making!

"This night has been a queer mixture of the prosaic and the esthetic! But how could I have cleared up this kitchen before I went to rehearsal?"

"You're so tired, Peggie! You go to bed. Let me clear up the kitchen," Jack coaxed.

"But I was in a frame of mind to object to any proposition my husband might make."

"I'll do those dishes now! If they stand 'we'll have roaches! But they're not your work. I'll do them alone."

Jack calmly continued to rinse the plates under the hot water faucet.

"All right. Help if you want! Even if it is midnight, they've got to be done," I went on. "There's another reason. You'll have to get your own breakfast in the morning, Jack!"

"Why—what did you say?" Jack was so astonished that he dropped his dish towel. It occurred to me that he never had got his breakfast in his life.

"I'm going to the station at 7 in the morning," I announced as casually as if I were accustomed to meet an early train daily. "Why—what for, Peggie?" "I'd rather not tell you, Jack. It's not my secret!"

Now there was no reason on earth why I should not explain everything to Jack. But I did not. I excused myself to myself by saying that the rehearsal had been too much for me and washing dishes at midnight was irritating. But in my heart I knew that the reason I refused to say where I was going alone early in the morning—was Mrs. Herrod's letter!

In that little matter my husband was living right up to our prenuptial agreement. He assumed I had no right to know that another woman was writing to him regularly. Well, then, if I had business at an early train I could attend to it without his assistance.

But next morning when I crawled out of bed and left poor dear Jack to make his own coffee, something seemed to be very much wrong with life.

"It's raining, Peggie! Better let me do your errand for you," Jack suggested. "Or let me go along and carry your umbrella!"

"Impossible, Jack! It's not my affair. I told you that!"

I would not be reasonable, nevertheless I adored Jack because he wanted to take care of me. To be taken care of by Jack was fast becoming the most precious part of matrimony.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

GRAPEFRUIT

Some Tasty Ways to Prepare It

There's a tang to grapefruit that goes "right to the spot" in the spring of the year. The fruit acts as a tonic to jaded appetites.

Try salt instead of sugar on your breakfast fruit. Add salt to the fruit cocktail you serve at luncheon or dinner. Try these rules for grapefruit and see if the family doesn't approve.

GRAPEFRUIT PIE

One grapefruit, boiling water, 1 cup sugar, 1-3 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 egg, baked pie shell, 2 tablespoons granulated sugar, 1 tablespoon cold water.

Squeeze juice from grapefruit and use enough boiling water to make two cups of liquid. Put boiling water in a sauce pan, add sugar, cornstarch diluted in cold water and salt. Cook, stirring constantly until clear. Stir in grapefruit juice.

Add yolk of egg unbeaten and remove from the fire. Mix thoroughly and pour into the baked pie shell. Beat white of egg till stiff and dry with cold water. Beat in sugar and pile on pie. Bake eight minutes in a moderate oven. Serve cold.

GRAPEFRUIT SALAD

Two grapefruit, 1 green pepper, 3 drops onion juice, 1-3 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons oil, paprika.

Peel grapefruit, removing all the tough white skin. Divide into sections and remove pulp from connecting tissues. Remove seeds and white fiber from pepper and mince. Arrange sections of grapefruit on heart of lettuce, sprinkle with minced pepper and pour over dressing of onion juice, salt and oil mixed. Sprinkle with paprika and serve.

Any juice that escapes from the fruit while it is being prepared should be saved and mixed with the oil. This salad should be thoroughly chilled before mixing.

GRAPEFRUIT MARMALADE

Six small grapefruit, 2 lemons, 3 oranges, water, sugar.

Cut grapefruit in halves and scoop out pulp with a spoon. Free the peels or shells from the fibers and pith and cook in boiling water to cover. Change the water three times during the first hour of cooking. Cook until the peels are tender. Drain. Scrape the white part off with a spoon, leaving only the yellow rind.

Cut in shreds. Measure pulp and use same amount of sugar and fruit. Wash and wipe oranges and lemons the night before you want to make the marmalade. Slice very thin into a large cork.

Add 10 cups cold water and let stand over night. Bring slowly to the boiling point and boil half an hour. Measure and add as much sugar as there is fruit. Add to grapefruit pulp shredded rind and sugar and cook the whole about an hour and one-half. The marmalade should set quickly when tried on a cold saucer. Turn into jelly glasses and cover with paraffin when cold.

ELECTION BOARD READY FOR FRAY

Primary Day Plans—Gray and Wyre Enter Lists

More than 4,000 pieces of mail will be sent out by the Allen-co board of election commencing June 1, up until after the election in November.

Most of the mail sent out will be in the form of notices to voters and precinct committeemen, clerks and judges, according to A. J. Morris, clerk of the board.

June 8 the day will fall on entrants for the primary derby in both Republican and Democratic parties, and the race will be on in earnest.

There are 11 more days, exclusive of Sundays, in which candidates may file their declaration of intention.

The Democratic slate is practically filled, but the G. O. P. entry sheet is as full of vacancies as an old fence is of pickets. However, there is plenty of time to come out. A number of the most talked of office seekers on both sides have not filed so far.

Race for sheriff nomination on the Democratic side may not be so hot if rumors are correct that one or more candidates talked of may get out of the race. There will be some six in the race at the very least.

A. J. Gray, who announced his intention to file announcement for a second term as county commissioner on the G. O. P. ticket, finally found his way to the Holmes-bldg. Friday and was officially registered.

John J. Wyre, Lima realtor, who has been groomed for record on the Republican ticket, also decided to file Friday.

LIMA PASTORS TO SPEAK AT COLUMBUS GROVE AND ROCKPORT, MEMORIAL DAY

Two Lima ministers will be Decoration day speakers at towns adjacent to this city.

Rev. D. N. Kelly, pastor of Grace M. E. church, will be the speaker at exercises to be held Tuesday afternoon in Day's opera house, Columbus Grove, members of Ogleville Post, Grand Army of the Republic, will go to the Presbyterian church there Sunday morning, where the annual memorial sermon will be given by the pastor, Rev. Ralph Kohr.

Rev. G. M. Baumgardner, pastor of Epworth M. E. church, will be speaker at the Decoration day services to be held at Rockport, Monday.

TUBERCULOSIS CLINIC DESIGNED TO CREATE COURAGE IN PATIENTS

One of the most important objects of the tuberculosis clinics to be given in Lima May 21 and June 1 will be to create in the infected individual and his family the proper attitude toward tuberculosis, according to Dr. J. B. Poling, health commissioner.

"The day is long past when the patient who has tuberculosis considers himself doomed," nurses in charge of the clinic say. "It is agreed that nine out of ten people have tuberculosis at some time in their life, but on account of proper treatment a mild infection, the disease is arrested.

"The old attitude that there is no use to follow a physician's advice and treatment, since it is felt it will do no good, is wrong. Carefully obey your physician's instructions; you may improve steadily for months and lose all you have gained by one act of carelessness," nurses say.

They advise that no medicine be taken except under prescription of a competent physician and declare it is a mistake to believe that one must always take medicine when ill, very often it is unnecessary and very harmful.

MARRIED MAN SENTENCED ON CHARGE MADE BY GIRL

W. C. Cavanaugh, 24, 337 E. Kibby-st., was sentenced to Toledo work house for 60 days and fined $25 by Judge J. H. Hamilton in juvenile court Friday.

Cavanaugh is the father of two children. He was arrested on a charge preferred by a 17 year old girl, juvenile authorities say.

RADIO RECEPTION VARIES WITH NEW CONDITIONS

By PAUL F. GODLEY
America's Foremost Radio Authority

A thing which puzzles many radio fans is their ability to receive concert programs from a broadcasting station one night and their inability to get anything from the same station the following night.

In some cases the credit for the reception is given to the receiving equipment, while in others the novice assumes that the success is the result of his own skill.

Many receivers have been discarded for no better types because of the failure of a particular set to get these nightly concerts regularly.

As anyone may learn by a little experience in reception of radio messages (particularly on the short-wave lengths allotted to amateur and broadcasting stations) signal strengths vary from night to night, hour to hour and even minute to minute.

SIGNAL VARIATION
There are times during the colder winter months when signals, quite steady and dependable, are heard from stations at extreme distances. On the other hand, there are periods during the summer months when the stations close at hand cannot be heard at all.

It should be expected then that during the change from one extreme of season to another, such as in the spring and fall, reception varies a great deal.

As radio broadcasting develops, every possible step will be taken by those interested in its development, to offset the disadvantages of this great variation in signal.

Either stations will be made more powerful or they will become sufficiently numerous to take care of all sections of the country.

Nevertheless there will always remain the lure of "distance." A great many amateurs would prefer to hear a few discordant notes from a station 1600 miles away than to hear a most wonderfully executed program from a station in their own home town.

RESULTS DIFFER

Do not judge the merits of a radio receiving set upon the results which you may get from night to night or even from hour to hour. To make a fair comparison of radio equipment of any sort, it must be installed and operated under exactly the same conditions and the notes of operation made in exactly the same instant.

In making comparisons in the laboratories, engineers produce an artificial set of conditions over which they have complete control, in order that all their measurements may be made with accuracy.

The amateur may be misled very easily if he places too great dependence on appearance. I am encountering daily enthusiasts who have discovered unheard of things. As a rule they return later to confess that there must have been some mistake.

Radiophone Helps Bed-Ridden Invalid In Business and Education

LAFAYETTE, Ind. — Radio has proved a salvation for A. J. DeLong, invalid.

DeLong has been confined to his bed for a number of years because of rheumatism which has affected both legs and the right arm. His condition kept him from entering college. He had little entertainment.

Now DeLong has a radio set beside his bed. He operates it with his left hand.

Concerts, lectures, sermons, vocal music — everything which he has been forced to miss — he is now enjoying.

But he didn't stop with education and entertainment for himself. Realizing the possibilities of radio, DeLong invited in any persons who would care to listen to his radio concerts.

The result was a boom in the business that has kept him out of bed. He has been gathering in magazine subscriptions faster than ever.

20 OIL BURNING ENGINES TO PASS THRU THIS CITY

One of the largest and most remarkable single trains motives ever hauled across the country will pass thru Lima Thursday of next week.

There will be 20 oil burning locomotives, each 100 feet long and weighing 621,000 pounds in the train. They will be hauled by several coal burning "pushers and pullers," at least six being needed to haul the train around the horseshoe curve, west of Altoona, Pennsylvania.

These 20 locomotives are part of an order built by the Baldwin Locomotive Co. for the Southern Pacific Railroad.

It will be impossible for the train to make much speed because of its size and weight. It will move only during the daytime and will be compelled to detour around weak bridges and avoid small tunnels.

The train left Philadelphia Friday noon and is expected in Lima Thursday. It will stop at Crestline Wednesday night and at Ft. Wayne Thursday night, passing thru here on the Pennsylvania Lines.

COUNT WESLEY'S FRECKLES!

$10 In Cash Prizes and 100 Tickets for "Penrod" for Nearest Correct Counts

How many freckles does Wesley "Freckles" Barry show in this drawing? Do you suppose you could count them? One bright, sunny day, just a few weeks ago, Wesley Barry, the shining starlet of many a photoplay, was in New York City. Some obliging artist took his picture, freckles and all, and sent it on to me. So we went to all the trouble of counting his freckles, had a drawing made of the photograph, and are presenting to readers of The News this momentous question, "How many freckles has Wesley Barry got?" This is not a guessing contest, but a contest of skill. Mark off the picture in sections and count the dots, each of which represents one freckle. The number is exact—we counted 'em ourselves. If you are good at counting, here's a list of prizes to which you are eligible. There are 85 prizes, making it clearly worth your time and energy to count Wesley's freckles.

THE PRIZE LIST

First prize—$5.00 in cash.
Second prize—$2.00 in cash.
Third prize—$1.00 in cash.
Fourth prize—$1.00 in cash.
Fifth prize—$1.00 in cash.
Next 25 prizes—Two tickets to the Sigma theatre, where Wesley is appearing next week in "Penrod," from Booth Tarkington's widely read novel.
Next 50 prizes—Single tickets to the Sigma, good for any performance of "Penrod."
In case of a tie count, the prize will be duplicated to each person in the tie.
Get out your pencil and start counting. Send in your answer to the Freckles Editor, care of The Lima News. A post card will do, but be sure to write your name and address FULLY. The winners will be decided on Monday, the contest closing at 6 o'clock. All answers in before that hour will have an equal chance to win one of the 85 prizes. Employees of The News are barred from the competition. Members of one family may not send in more than one count, and not more than one prize will be awarded to a family.
Let's go!

RUTH IS BARRED FROM GAME

Argument With Umpire to be Probed by Johnson

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — Babe Ruth of the New York Yankees today was declared by President Ben Johnson of the American League to be ineligible to play until a complete investigation has been made of the argument with Umpire Hildebrand which resulted in the home run king being put out of the game yesterday and then climbing into the stands, where he became offended at the booing of fans. Mr. Johnson said an investigation would be made at once and that a final decision would be made by tomorrow. Ruth, however, will not be permitted to play today. "I have received only the report of Umpire Hildebrand," said Mr. Johnson. "I have started gathering complete evidence in the case and expect to have this in my hands by tomorrow. In the meantime Babe Ruth will not appear in the New York lineup.

The craze for candles is increasing, perhaps because candle light is a kind light. Be sure when you get yours, however, that you do not match your wall paper. ACTION ON WAR DEBTS URGED

Comptroller of Currency Warns of Delay

FAVORS PAYMENT IN GOLD

Would Maintain Standard of Yellow Metal

PITTSBURG—(Associated Press)—Maintenance of the gold standard by foreign nations is vital, Comptroller of the Currency Clegg declared today in an address before the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association. Otherwise, he said, the United States might be left with an enormous store of the yellow metal stripped of its monetary value.

To this end Mr. Clegg advocated adjustment of the foreign war debts to this country on such a basis as would permit of their eventual payment in gold at the same time expressing the view that immediate payment of interest by the debtor nations was necessary to the economic welfare of the country.

"I do not believe," he said, "it is possible at this time to reach a final settlement of all the international obligations. But there is absolute necessity that some general policy shall be agreed upon among the nations with reference to these obligations."

There must be Mr. Clegg contended some distribution of policy toward international debts and an adjustment of government budgets to give confidence in the power of states to pay their debts and maintain the gold basis of money.

WOULD DRAIN EUROPE

It is not necessary, is I view it," he continued, "that Europe shall forthwith begin to pay interest upon its obligations to us. Indeed today that would mean that Europe must drain itself of its remaining gold and break down the gold standard.

The only alternative would be for Europe to furnish us with goods, which we could only accept at the price of substituting them for goods produced by our own industries. In either case our last state would be worse than our first.

"The most that can be undertaken at this time—and it must be undertaken soon if we are to avoid disaster, is to reach a workable understanding and settlement as to the future of the international debt due us, and existing between other countries and along with this there must be a serious effort to balance budgets."

THREE PAY FINES FOR TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS

One speeder and two others drew fines in criminal court Friday of traffic violations.

C. O. Smith, 23 Harrison-av., must have thought he was on the Indiana highway, police say, charging he was hitting a 35-mile per hour clip. Smith was inclined to that belief himself and was taxed $5.

WOMEN BROKERS!

Three Help Their Sex Invest

Three Chicago women own, operate and control an investment company that caters exclusively to women.

"We felt thousands of women would like to invest their money, but were timid about entering the austere banking houses and asking innumerable questions of men," explained Mrs. Ralph D. Small, president.

"In our establishment we have tried to preserve the same atmosphere of social graciousness and good taste in furnishing and in receiving our clients that women exhibit in their homes."

Associated with Mrs. Small are Miss Agnes Foreman, business manager, and Miss Jessie Burdeau, general manager.

Reversal of a judgment of $20.70 awarded Kara Znaon, for loss of a dress, is asked in an appeal filed in common pleas court Friday by Jess Benedetto, 962 S. Main-st., Italian cleaner and drier.

The case is brought up from Justice J. M. Bolpina's court where it was heard May 16 and a verdict awarded the plaintiff.

The dress was taken to Benedetto to clean. He sent it out to another shop, testimony showed. The owner brought the garment back alleging that it had been ruined.

Benedetto took it and promised to take the matter up with the other shop and get a settlement. Thieves broke in his shop and stole not only the garment in dispute, but others.

Benedetto alleges that the fault was not his and is appealing the case.

LUCAS LOSES IN FIRST CASE

Hotel Man Fined $1,000—Mrs. Lucas Discharged

J. W. Lucas, proprietor of a hotel and restaurant at 444 S. Main-st., was found guilty in criminal court Friday of possession of intoxicating liquor. Motion for a new trial was overruled by Judge Emmett J. Jackson and the defendant fined $1,000.

Lucas' wife appeared on a charge of interfering with an officer, but the case was dismissed.

The customary three days was given to perfect an appeal and Lucas is out on $1,000 bond. The case will be carried to common pleas court immediately. Lucas' attorney announced.

Police allege they found a quart bottle partially filled with liquor and a small quantity in a pitcher, when they raided Lucas' hotel April 15. Mrs. Lucas attempted to hinder them in their search, they assert.

Two other cases against Lucas, charging possession of liquor and assault and another interference case against Mrs. Lucas, are scheduled to be heard June 2. Incidents of the first raid were repeated when the officers made a second visit early in May, police charge. The assault case grew out of a fight Lucas and J. W. "Doc" Durr staged at Main and Eureka-sts., Sunday, according to officers.

Efforts of the defense in the liquor case Friday were directed toward proving that neither Lucas nor his wife knew anything about the liquor. Testimony of Mrs. Lucas and an employee disclosed that it was found after the sponge squad went back a second time April 15. Doors of the hostelry were locked when they were taken to police station, the testimony indicated and within 15 minutes or so the raiders came back and are said to have discovered the liquor in the kitchen. In the second raid a quart bottle of booze was found among old clothes on the second floor, say the minions of the law.

Judge Jackson issued a statement from the bench. "It is about time that we lay the basis for prosecution for perjury," he said. "I am disgusted with the manner in which witnesses come here and deny knowledge of ever seeing the exhibits that are presented."

NOTICE, G. A. R. Members of the Mart Armstrong Post, G. A. R., are requested to meet Sunday, May 28, at 9 a. m. at Memorial Hall to go in a body to Grace Methodist Episcopal church for the National Sunday service. Other military organizations are invited to march with the G. A. R. members.

John Klatte, Commander.

CASE IS HALTED

Return of Alleged Embezzler Here is Delayed

More than five weeks may intervene before Lima police knew whether J. C. Atkinson, former Sunday school superintendent, wanted here on a charge of embezzling funds of the Parmenter and Franklin printing companies, will be released by Chicago authorities.

Police Captain George Strick was informed on his visit to Chicago, from which he returned early Friday, that Superior court there has set the date for hearing on habeas corpus July 7.

A requisition for extradition was secured by local authorities from the governor of Illinois, but since Atkinson is held to the Chicago court efforts to bring him to Lima will probably be unavailing before July 7, unless by mutual agreement the habeas corpus proceedings be held sooner. It is stated. Efforts were made to have a hearing at once Strick said, but was impossible because Atkinson was away from the city. The alleged embezzlement of $2 took place in March.

MADGE KENNEDY OFF, ON, OFF, ON SCREEN AGAIN

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)
WOMAN'S inalienable right — to change her mind. Witness Madge Kennedy. She deserted the stage for the screen. She deserted the screen for the stage. Now she deserts the stage for the screen.

A new company, composed of men not heretofore interested in the film industry, has been formed to back Miss Kennedy in a series of six pictures, the first of which will be "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall." There's a little story in the selection of that vehicle. Screen rights were bought for $15,000.

Then Mary Pickford bid for it. J. Stuart Blackton entered the auction, seeking the story as the second starring chariot for Lady Diana Manners. When the price reached $85,000

Miss Kennedy's backers announced the screen rights. If that valuable, it is expected the picture will be completed by September. It immediately will be followed by a screen version of "Dear Me," the great stage success by Luther Reed and Hale Hamilton.

A message we have just received from London says Blackton is proceeding with plans to star Lady Diana in a photoplay based on the sixteenth century legends of Haddon Hall. Sir John Manners with whom Dorothy Vernon eloped from Haddon Hall was an ancestor of Lady Diana. Lady Diana is said to resemble her famous ancestress in beauty and personality. She has lived much of her life within the historic walls of Haddon Hall.

Madge Kennedy. She returns to the screen in "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall."

is heralded as an original photoplay, now in preparation by J. G. Hawks and John Stahl. One wonders if the idea is not from the recent novel by Rose Macaulay.

Another silly title change. Elinor Glyn's "Six Days" will be only "Five Days" on the screen. Probably a sop to the silly censors.

Rupert Hughes recalled the prints of "The Wall Flower" after it had been released and remade two reels. D. W. Griffith also changed "Orphans of the Storm" after it had been released.

One wonders what is in a title after all when "The Man Who Smiled" is changed to "The Woman He Loved." Was man or woman the star of this picture?

Clara Kimball Young soon will be seen in a Russian story called "The Hands of Nara." Metro will release the picture. Miss Young says that she has been told she looks decidedly Russian.

Mary Pickford has decided to call her new edition of "Tess of the Storm Country" simply "Tess."

"WAY DOWN EAST"

With its humaneness and its story of unusual love, its thrills and its pathos, it stands alone in the field of spectacular pictures.

The all star cast which carries out the story quite eclipses any cast that ever appeared in this piece on the speaking stage.

Faurot's New Keith Is Quite Engaging

WITH one of the most complete and enjoyable programs yet presented at the Faurot Opera House, now in effect at that theatre, patrons and devotees of the Keith policy are assured of a splendid assembly of big-time acts, over the week-end.

A distinct novelty, and one that embodies some well-placed comedy, is offered by Time and Ward. Mr. Time, on bicycles, performs several daring feats: his vis-a-vis, Miss Ward, adds and abets by nutty sayings and generally helps the fun along.

Mr. Billy Clifford, presenting a "single" act, does have the best time with himself and the audience, and in presenting a "playing school" skill, delights everyone. One of the best single acts ever brought to the Faurot.

As for the headliner, "The Cotton Pickers," here we have a charming bit of southern melody, dancing, etc., ably presented by a company of five young men and one young woman. All have voices that blend beautifully, and the solo dance numbers by one of the company are a treat.

As for the feature film, being shown in conjunction with the above program of Keith acts, it is a Fox presentation of "Money To Burn," starring William Russell, and while it has many interesting moments, and is sure to please the many Russell fans, it's a trifle tiresome. Miss Sylvia Breamer brings her languorous beauty as one of the redeeming features, and Mr. Russell's "pop" adds decidedly thereto.

Mary Miles Minter In "Tillie"—Quilna

THE screen adaptation of the stage play "Tillie," featuring Miss Mary Miles Minter, while a charming bit of cinema entertainment, doesn't seem to fit the fragile loveliness of its star. One associates her with wealth and ease, whereas in "Tillie" she is seen in just the opposite kind of a setting. Certain it is, Mary don't have many pretty moments in "Tillie," for you see, it isn't that kind of a picture.

The story is of the Pennsylvania Dutch, and intimately concerns the doings of the Getz family. The father is a hard, cruel man; the mother is dead and Tillie, the loved, off-beaten daughter, manages the household and takes care of the younger children. Her life is a drab, hard-working affair at best.

A handsome stranger, portrayed by Alan Forest, brings joy and happiness to the little heroine, saves her from marrying the man she hates, saves a fortune for her, and debonairly takes her away as his wife, into a new and astonishingly beautiful world—for poor Tillie.

That's the meat of the story. Of course there are various little incidents, some pitiful, some humorous, which are inserted at regular intervals. Miss Minter, in her role, makes the best of her opportunities; Mr. Forest, handsome and a competent actor, is splendid as the gallant hero.

Noah Beery is cast as the h. c. father and adds one more to his list of villainous impersonations. Sets, direction, and photography, measure up to the usual Paramount standard, so that, all in all, you are quite likely to leave the theatre deeply contented.

"Tillie" is the feature attraction this week-end at the Quilna. And besides which, there's a novelty film "How to Grow Thin," that is attracting a good deal of comment.

Alice Lake In a Dual Role—Sigma

IT'S quite the thing nowadays, in the movie element, to play these dual role parts. Here we have Alice Lake doing one, in "The Infamous Miss Revell" and really she impersonates both roles in a most satisfactory manner.

First we see her as Paula Revell, a stranded entertainer, and then as her twin sister, Julien. The sisters are dependent upon their own fair efforts to keep themselves and four younger brothers and sisters, and things are quite dark until there happens upon the scene, one Maxwell Putnam, a wealthy, aged gentleman who immediately falls for the charms of Julien.

Realizing that he is far too old to be personally attractive to the beautiful young Julien, his attention takes the form of presents and goodies for the children for their part, he knows he can reach her. Finally he offers her the position of traveling companion, and because the salary is large, likewise the family, she accepts.

Later, the benevolent old gentleman dies, leaving the bulk of his estate to Julien. Of course there are relatives, and what happens after the will is read makes up the bulk of the picture, about which you must not know.

Surrounding Miss Lake in her double impersonation are such favorites as Jackie Saunders, Cullen Landis, Lydia Knott, and a group of darling youngsters. The photography and sets are acceptable and the picture on a whole is satisfying. We would suggest, however, that Miss Lake betake herself to the Quilna this week and see "How to Grow Thin." She is entirely too healthy looking, don't you think?

At the Sigma today and Saturday, with a continuation of the Charlie Chaplin fun-film, "Pay Day."

THEATRE DIRECTORY
 AT THE MAJESTIC
 "Big Town Ideas," starring Miss Eileen Percy, opens a two-day engagement today at the Majestic theatre. Also "The White Eagle" serial.

AT THE LYRIC
 D. W. Griffith's mighty screen drama "Way Down East," a picturization of the famous stage melodrama, continues as the feature attraction at the Lyric theatre. The all-star cast includes Lillian Gish, Lowell Sherman, Mary Hay, and Richard Barthelmess. Photographically speaking, the picture is a marvel.

REELOGRAPHY.
 "Here is one author who will not dare complain they have changed his 'stuff' on him," writes George Ade, concerning "Our Leading Citizen," the photoplay he wrote for Thomas Meighan.

Joseph M. Schenck, producer of the Talmadge and Keaton pictures, says production of photoplays will be greater in August than at any time in the history of the industry.

Evelyn Greely and Carlyle Blackwell have gone to Holland to appear in four pictures to be made there.

"The Dangerous Age," a domestic drama concerning middle-aged people, is being made here.

A School that costs $300 a Minute

The great problem today—of merchant, of manufacturer, of publisher—is the problem of Markets. Where is the market for my goods? Who will buy? What shall I say to them? How? Am I doing the best that can be done? Those who know—not guess, but know—the answers to such questions are fit to meet the selling problems of today. All others must either fail or struggle along with only a portion of the success they might easily enjoy.

There will be a great Forum—a great School of Experience—in session when business men gather for the Eighteenth Annual Convention

ASSOCIATED ADVERTISING CLUBS OF THE WORLD

Milwaukee, June 11 to 15, 1922

To attend this school, men will travel half way around the world, and thousands will come from every quarter of the United States and Canada; and the cost of the convention, in traveling expense and other outgo of the delegates, will be at least $300 a minute for every hour the convention is in session. And it will be worth it.

A great exhibit of foreign and domestic advertising, in addition to the general sessions and the departmental meetings of the convention, will afford a rich harvest of practical ideas and helpful plans for those who want to improve their advertising and selling methods to meet the demand of the times.

Again this year, businessmen and women can attend these sessions without holding membership in the Association.

The central location of Milwaukee, its wonderful transportation facilities and the fact that June is Wisconsin's ideal month, insure a very large attendance.

RUTH MAY BE BANISHED FOR DIRT THROWING

He Chases A Fan

NEW YORK—Just returned from long banishment for breaking rules, Babe Ruth, the king of swat, is again in danger of punishment as a result of having thrown dirt on an umpire and chased a lousy fan thru the Polo grounds grand stand yesterday. Exile stares him in the face.

Decision on H. M., the Bambino, rests today with Byron Bancroft Johnson, president of the American League, who is investigating the circumstances.

In third, Babe's blow-up came in the third inning of the game between the Yankees and the Washington Americans. The Babe had singled and was trying to stretch it into a double. He slid into second amid a cloud of dust and Umpire Hildebrand waved him out.

With ruthless rage, the Babe was on his feet and when he came up a handful of dirt came with him. It went toward the umpire, powdering his coat front and trickling down his collar.

Hildebrand motioned Ruth to the dugout. The stands booed and razed Ruth. Singing out one particularly lungful fan, Ruth climbed with the agility of a cat over the dugout roof, jumped thru the boxes and chased his tormentor. He was hussed as he paraded to the showers.

BABE GETS REPORT
CHICAGO — Reports of Umpires Mallin and Hildebrand on the affair at the Polo Grounds yesterday which resulted in barring Babe Ruth from the game, are received today by wire from the office of Ban Johnson, president of the American League.

Johnson was expected to announce his decision on whether or not Ruth would again be suspended before today's game.

Before considering the reports, Johnson would only say he was very sorry to hear that Ruth was again in trouble.

Sultan Of Swat Again In Bad Order

BABE RUTH IN THE GAME

NEW YORK — For the second time since Fall, Babe Ruth faces suspension. Hardly had he gotten a good start since the ban was lifted, and with only one home run to his credit, when he showered Umpire Hildebrand with dirt at the Polo grounds yesterday and shooed the stands. Ruth is in a bad way so far as deportment is concerned and President Ban Johnson was to pass judgment on him today.

14 Homers Hit In Major Leagues Thursday; 9 In National

NEW YORK — Baseball's home run clouters are on the warpath. Yesterday's games were featured by circuit swats and the unwonted antics of circuit swatters.

Babe Ruth didn't get a homer—he pulled a new one—threw dust in an umpire's face, went gunning for a fan that booed him and was banished for the rest of the afternoon.

It appeared today that Babe would draw another suspension or a heavy fine or both.

His team-mate, Bob Meusel, who recently returned with him from exile, helped the Yankees to their 6-4 victory over the Senators by hitting twice for the circuit.

Opposing players, Rice and Judge, hit for one round trip each.

Wilbert Robinson's Dodgers, in two games against the slipping Phillies, collected five homers. Zach Wheat hit his fifth of the season and the others went to High, Meyers, Deberry and Johnston. Peters and Leslie of the Phillies drove for one.

PRINCETON IS BEST BET AGAINST BEARS

(By HENRY L. FARRELL)
BOSTON — Princeton, the fighting tiger of Nassau, was nominated to carry the colors of the east against invaders from the Pacific coast in the inter-collegiate track and field championships starting at Harvard stadium this afternoon.

Of all the eastern teams gathered for the annual college classic, the Tigers alone were considered to have a chance to keep the far coast from walking away with another championship.

University of California, champions of 1921 and Stanford with two of the strongest teams that have won the east in years, figured there is nothing to it but a coast victory. They looked upon the two-day meet simply as an opportunity to settle their tie in their dual meet in California with Yale, Harvard, Princeton and other big eastern schools furnishing a background and color.

KIRKS WIN PIN RACE

At the "Y" alleys last night, the League closed the season with Kirk's team taking three games from Dexter's team by forfeit. Total score was the best of the season, 157-115, an average of 173-2-3. Thurston Shreve rolled high score of 219.

Score:
Shreve 181 175 219
Preston 159 169 153
Kirk 168 170 159
Totals 518 534 511
Team Total—1563.
Kirk's team won the league honors.

600 ATHLETES GATHER FOR MEET

COLUMBUS. — High school boys thrifting for athletic fame were pouring into Columbus today to test their prowess on track and field in the annual Big Six meet conducted by Ohio State university.

Before noon officials marshalled together some four hundred of them to run off preliminaries which were to narrow down the field to those competitors whose skill entitled them to participate in tomorrow morning's finals which will decide the high school championships of the state.

Besides the younger athletes on the ground were some early arrivals from Ohio colleges who after their preliminaries at Cincinnati and Cleveland a week ago, are here to finish their competition in the finals tomorrow afternoon.

TRACK IS GOOD
Rains of yesterday and earlier in the week had considerably softened the turf on Ohio field where the meet is to be held, but the track had quickly dried out and barring further rain, was expected to be in first class condition for the runners.

More than 600 athletes from 16 Ohio colleges and 50 high schools were gathered on the university campus today for the meet. Finals are called for 1:30 p. m. Saturday.

For the first time in the history of "Big Six" meets, numerous elimination heats are necessary, entries in the various events having been determined in sectional meets at Cleveland and Cincinnati last week. Advance interest also is at a new pitch as a result of the preliminary meets last week, in which each section qualified three men for each of the 15 events on tomorrow's program.

Two scores will be kept, one including Ohio State, and the other excluding the Buckeyes, who may enter up to six men in each event. S. U. SHOULD WIN

With such men as Moorehead, Lark, and Connell, in the dashes; McGarry in the hurdles, Captain Pittenger and Everett in the 440, Gurney in the 880, Ferguson in the mile, and Wilkoff in the two-mile, Ohio State should romp home with a majority of first in the track events.

Reversing the situation of previous years, which has consistently found Oberlin and Ohio Wesleyan favorites outside of Ohio Wesleyan on the eve of the Big Six, Miami and Denison are given the best chance to come out ahead tomorrow.

In the high school meet, Class A section, Lakewood and East Tech of Cleveland, are strong contenders. Columbus, which has six high school teams entered, and Cleveland with Cleveland Heights, Central and Shaw, in addition to Lakewood and East Tech, are the only centers with more than one chance to win the interscholastic title.

TO CLASH SUNDAY

Protective Home Circle and Lima Gym club baseball teams will clash at Faurot park Sunday at 9 a. m. Both nines are fast and are expected to stage a heated argument. P. H. C. players arrive at 8:30.

Stage Set For Lima Gym Club Card

LIMA was the Mecca for a large gathering of fight fans today for the Lima Gym club card at Memorial Hall tonight, in which Babe Bream, local pride, will meet Red McDonald of Toledo in a fight which promises to ring down in history as the keenest ever staged here.

Jim Hendricks, manager, arrived with the Toledo boy today, and about the same time Johnny Lundy, Brooklyn, and Johnny "Shine" Horvath, Mansfield, put in their appearance. The latter two meet in the first half of the double win-up.

The Lundy-Horvath battle may be expected to furnish thrills galore and will be a fitting prelude to the last bout, when old enmity between Bream and McDonald will probably crop out, providing the setting for a hammer and tongs scrap.

GRANT - COOKLEY BOUT
Fans are anticipating much in the go between Sailor Grant of Lima and Glen Cookley, the tow Ft Wayne middleweight. Sailor experienced tough sledding with Soldier Webb of Toledo at Kenton Wednesday night and will put forth his best efforts to get on the winning side again. They will go eight rounds in the second set of the evening.

John Anderson, local youngster, and Young Howe, of Delphos are slated to mill in six frames in the opener.

ALL O. K.
All pugilists repaired to the office of Dr. V. H. Hay, examining physician of the boxing commission, this afternoon and weighed in. It was the consensus of opinion among the spectators that no such assemblage of well-built and physically fit ringmen has even before been seen here.

Charley Maxwell will be at his old stand as third man in the ring and George Bavin and Dr. O. E. Chenoweth will be in the judges' chairs.

POINTED FOR CINCY GO

The spectacular showing of Don Baxter, Lima's premier bantamweight, against Hughie Richards at Dayton Wednesday night, when he chased the brother of the famous Blockie around the ring, has earned him a fight on a big card in Cincinnati soon.

Promoters of that city who saw Don in action began immediate negotiations after the fight. Baxter will meet one of the topnotch bantams of Cincinnati or some other city.

Friends of the local boy are all pepped up over his showing in his last two fights. He had a shade on Frankie Sussell May 8 and beat Richards by a wide margin. He is hitting harder and displaying more aggressiveness than he ever did.

DEVINE-DOWNEY GO

CINCINNATI — Bob Devine of Chicago, middleweight champion of Scotland, and Anthony Downey of Cincinnati will meet in a 12 round bout here tonight. They are to box at 156 pounds.

Eddie Black of Covington and Steve Carter of Pittsburgh are to go eight rounds in the semi-final.

'SHOVEL' ENTERS IVORY CLUB

Fred Markle once won much undesired publicity by failing to touch second base and thereby losing a pennant for New York. This stunt is included rightfully in the list of famous "bonehead" plays that have been pulled in the majors.

John Anderson once essayed to steal second base with the bases filled. He succeeded, only to find that his teammate, Kid Elberfeld, was occupying said base.

"Doc" Gesler, playing the outfield with the Chicago Cubs, once caught a fly ball in the last half of the ninth, with the bases filled and only one out, and proceeded to run to the club house with the ball while all the base runners scored.

These are just a few of the bonehead plays that head the list of ivory stunts that have been pulled in the majors.

Clarence "Shovel" Hodge, a member of the pitching staff of the Chicago White Sox, pulled one the other day that entitles him to membership in the ivory hunters.

Chicago was playing Detroit. The game was very close. Detroit got runners on first and second, with one out. With a couple of strikes on the batter Hodge proceeded to pull his now famous "bone".

When a ball becomes rough or does not suit the pitcher it is always possible for him to secure a new ball by appealing to the umpire. Hodge decided to combine umpiring with pitching.

After getting two strikes on the batsman and having the ball returned to him by Catcher Schalk, he was seen to examine it very closely, and then, without consulting anyone, he proceeded to throw it into the Detroit dugout.

The rules say that any ball thrown into the dugout entitles all base runners to advance two bases. The runner on second was allowed to score, while the one on first moved to third.

Fortunately for Mr. Hodge, Chicago managed to win the game, 6 to 5. Otherwise Kid Gleason might have said a lot of uncomplimentary things to his elongated pitcher.

MARTIN'S 95TH

ELDORADO, Ark. — Bob Martin, A. F. and inter-allied heavyweight champion, scored his ninety-fifth knockout last night when he stopped Sailor Bill Maxon in the third round of a scheduled ten round match. Maxon was dropped three times in the second and twice in the third before a right hand punch flattened him for the full count.

SPORT CORES

YESTERDAY'S HERO—Bob Meusel hit two homers, after Babe Ruth had been banned from the Yankee-Phillies game and helped the league champions wind up their home stay with a 6 to 4 victory.

Waite Hoyt allowed only six hits, but two were homers.

The Dodgers took both ends of a double header from the humble Philadelphia Athletics. Five homers featured the contests.

Johnston, Brooklyn keystone, better, made six hits for a total of 15 bases.

The Cardinals suffered their fifth straight defeat at the hands of Pittsburgh 7 to 3.

Yvette, Ty Cobb's coats find, held the Indians to five hits and the Tigers on to third place, winning 7 to 3.

The Cubs and the Reds were tied 2 to 2, in the eighth when rain ended the game.

Grover Lowdermilk, Columbus twirler, has "qu" baseball forever, again. The lanky pitcher, who was obtained for Minneapolis, quit the Midwest two different times last season. His latest "swan song" was sung when he blew up in the second inning against Louisville here.

University of Chicago tennis players won the first round in the western conference tournament yesterday before play was halted by heavy showers.

St. Rose High school defeated St. Johns High yesterday at baseball, 16 to 4, at Murphy-st park.

For the second time, rain halted the Central-South High school track meet yesterday. No date has been announced.

HOW TO PLAY BASEBALL

Today's Article—The Art of Hitting in the Game

By BILLY EVANS

American League Umpire and Feature Editor of The Lima News.

There is a saying in baseball—that the great hitters are born, not made.

Those advocating such a theory insist there is no way a player can be taught to make home runs like Babe Ruth.

True, it is impossible to lay down any set of rules that will make a batter emulate the deeds of the Babe. Nature endowed him with a good pair of eyes, a great physique, and a destructive swing.

However, by careful study and persistent effort, it is possible to improve one's ability to bat.

Don't make the error of using too heavy a bat. Because Babe Ruth swings a heavy stick, don't think you can. Also don't get the impression that a heavy bat is essential to a good hitter.

The use of too heavy a bat is a fault that handicaps a great many batters unknowingly. They handle the bat properly, which results in a late swing. The bat swings the batter instead of the batsman swinging the bat.

A short or medium bat of a light weight is better than a long heavy bat for the average hitter.

PROPER GRIP IMPORTANT
The next thing is the proper way to grip the bat. Usually it is advisable to handle a bat as it feels best.

STOCK AND GRAIN GOSSIP

Correspondents of Logan and Bryan (Courtesy of W. A. Rubsam & Co.)

For the first quarter of the present year Famous Players and its subsidiaries reported profits of $19.82 a share on common after allowing for dividends on common preferred.

It is believed that wheat liquidation in both cash and futures is nearing an end and the market will take on a stronger tone, especially should crop reports come out favorable.

Liverpool wheat closed unchanged to a fourth lower. July corn was a half higher.

OHIO INCORPORATIONS

CHANGE IN WHEAT PRICES SLIGHT

Market Unsettled at Close—Corn is Steady

CHICAGO — Although showing an upturn at the start, wheat prices weakened today during the early dealings. The initial firmness was due to transient options of selling pressure. Receipts here, however, were large, 425 carloads, and with continued heavy deliveries on May contracts, $91.00 bushels, the market soon turned downward.

RAINY weather hindered field work and gave comparative firmness to the market for corn and oats. After opening unchanged, July 63 to 63 1-8, the corn market eased a trifle and then scored a slight general gain.

SHORT SHAVINGS

C. M. Hendershott, Holmes-av., was entertaining a friend at his home, telling him what a quiet street it was, with nothing to disturb anyone. He had invited his friend out to demonstrate this interesting fact. Just then a number of boys came out to play and a ball crashed thru the windshield of his caller's automobile.

Blake Robinson, vocalist, entertained a party with singing. He explained that when he felt good he always broke into song. "If you had the right key," said another guest, "you wouldn't have to break into it."

E. W. Mumaugh, contractor, says he has a friend who always scowls forbiddingly when walking downtown in the evening. "He doesn't want to look amiable for fear some panhandler will ask him for a dime. He's so kind-hearted he can't refuse such requests."

Jim Grubb asked a young artist friend how he obtained the unusual effect in a landscape he painted at Port Amanda.

"After I had finished the sketch," explained the painter, "I left it to wash my hands and a cow licked it."

Do you get the best your grocer has?

Your grocer is particular about the foods he has in his store. That is why you trade with him. He sells Kingnut in the knowledge that it is a pure vegetable product made for his very best trade, and guaranteed by the makers.

Warning

Do not be misled by the word oleomargarine on the Kingnut package, made necessary by the survival of an old law. Kingnut contains no animal fats. It is made from the pure oils of the coconut and peanut, blended with pasteurized milk.

It is nice that Kingnut means a real saving of your money, but that is not why you are advised to try it. Use it for the reason that other particular people use it on their tables and in cooking—because of its delicious flavor, its purity, its uniform quality and texture every season of the year.

Kingnut is Kingnut—and until you have tried it you will not realize that its delight is as great as its economy.

Kingnut does not contain lard or any other animal fats.
